

Rejects Neutral Position

Hungarian Premier Will Not Negotiate With Nagy As Long As He Is In Asylum

VIENNA (AP)—Russia's puppet Premier of Hungary, Janos Kadar, today rejected neutrality as a future policy for the nation and refused any negotiations with former Premier Imre Nagy as long as he remains in the asylum of the Yugoslav Embassy in Budapest.

Kadar set the policy of his regime in a statement to a workers' delegation, broadcast by Budapest radio, which showed clearly he has no intention of walking out of the Soviet-dominated Warsaw Pact or giving up the close ties with Moscow which set off the three-week revolution.

Kadar said that a neutral Hungary—which Kadar had proposed during his brief tenure as premier—would be "exploited by the imperialists and lead to war." The international political situation, he added, does not favor a policy of neutrality.

As for the man the revolt had made premier briefly, Kadar said an agreement with Nagy "could be possible only if he changes his attitude and comes out of the (Yugoslav) Embassy to negotiate." Nagy took refuge with the Yugoslavs when the Russians poured troops into Hungary and Budapest to suppress the revolution.

In a separate attempt to end the general strike paralyzing the revolt-shattered nation, Kadar's regime announced a mass purge of former top Communists and the Premier expressed approval of limited "free" elections "at a later date."

Budapest radio said Kadar told the workers' delegation, however, that the only parties which would be allowed to participate in elections would be those which "stand for Socialist principles and serve the interests of the workers."

The puppet premier reiterated his previous stand that negotiations for the withdrawal of the Russian forces from Hungary can only be opened after order and peace have been restored.

The rebel guns were silent in Budapest today after the end of armed resistance at the big plants on Csepel Island, in the Danube just out of the capital. But the workers there, after downing their guns, joined in the nationwide general strike.

Tigers to Play Final Game of Season Friday Against Kemper Team

Smith-Cotton Tigers play their final football game of the 1956 season at Kemper Military Academy Friday afternoon. The Tigers play the Yellow Jackets at 2:45 p.m. the only day game to be played by the locals this year.

Kemper in the cellar position of the conference could do no more than put the Tigers in a third place tie with Hannibal if they can overpower the Sedalians. A victory will give the Tigers third place, Hannibal-fourth, with Jefferson City the top team and the 1956 Central Missouri Conference champions, undefeated. The Columbia Kewpies are second with only one loss that being to the Jays.

The probable starting lineup for the Tigers: Shepherd, left end; McDowell, left tackle; Fairfax, left guard; Sklar, center; Boehm, right guard; Hall, right tackle; Gates, right end. In the backfield: Murray, quarterback; Garrison, left half back; Newman, right half back; and Goodrich, fullback.

The team leaves for Boonville at 10:30 a.m.

Down It Went!

The inside of the thermometer became a toboggan slide this morning and the mercury almost got slushy.

Mostly cloudy and much colder tonight and Friday with strong northwesterly winds; light rain changing to light snow flurries tonight; continued cold Friday; low tonight in mid-20s; high Friday in upper 30s.

The temperature at 7 a. m. was 43, 44 at 9 a.m. and 35 at 1 p.m. Rainfall Wednesday .02 inch.

The temperature one year ago today, high 72, low 45, with .34 inch of rain; two years ago, high 70, low 38; and three years ago, high 70, low 43.

Stage at Lake of the Ozarks 52.8 steady.

Russians Receive Gomulka

Top Officials Greet Poland's Communist Party Chief; Limited Requests Expected

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union's top leadership turned out today to give a full-scale reception to Wladyslaw Gomulka, jailed as a Polish Titoist during Stalin's regime and now the spearhead of Poland's drive for equality with Moscow.

Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev, Premier Bulganin and President Klementi Voroshilov headed party and government officials who greeted the Polish Communist party chief and his four man delegation on their arrival at the Moscow railway station.

(Earlier this week it was believed that Khrushchev was in Budapest, seeking to help establish the Hungarian regime of Janos Kadar on a firmer footing.)

Accompanied by a large delegation of military and economic advisers, Poland's new Communist leadership came to Moscow to discuss future Polish-Soviet relations.

Informed sources in Warsaw stressed there was no likelihood of Gomulka suggesting any Polish withdrawal from the Warsaw Pact, such as that proclaimed by Hungary during its brief spell of independence. Instead they expected Gomulka to ask for an agreement to limit the number of Russian troops stationed in Poland and for his regime to be given the right to approve any movement of Soviet soldiers inside Poland.

Ex-Convict Tells Story Of Acid Case

NEW YORK (AP)—An ex-convict, confessed conspirator in the acid attack on Victor Riesel, has detailed his version of a slain hoodlum's story of how the labor communist was blinded for a $500 fee.

Joseph Peter Carlini, who pleaded guilty to helping plot the acid attack on Riesel last April 5, testified yesterday for the prosecution before a federal jury of eight men and four women.

The trial resumes today. Carlini was the first witness in the trial of Domenico Bando, Leo Telvi and Gondolfo (Sheikie) Miranti. Four others, including labor racketeer John (Johnny Dio) Dioguardi, will be tried later in the case.

Carlini testified that the acid hurler was Abe Telvi, Leo's brother, who later was found slain on a lower East Side street.

Carlini said he met Bando one night last March and Bando told him: "I got a contract to beat up somebody. Do you know anyone who will take the job? The job's worth $500."

The next day, Carlini said, he met Abe Telvi, who agreed to do it.

B-36 Bomber Crashes Near Denver; No Loss Of Life Is Reported

DENVER (AP)—A six-engine B-36 bomber with 21 persons aboard crashed and burned north of Denver's municipal airport today, but first reports said there was no loss of life.

An officer at Lowry Air Force Base said all 21 men were taken to the hospital. He said the condition of 17 was reported not critical, but he had no reports on the others.

Ceremony Opening Newly Remodeled J. C. Penney Store Thursday Morning

The opening of the newly remodeled and redecored Penney's Store at Third and Ohio was held at 9 o'clock Thursday morning, when Carleton Kelley, mayor pro tem, cut the ribbon at the beautiful new entrance of the store.

Present at the opening were: Paul Hedderich, who has been manager of the Sedalia store for the past 26 years; R. E. Erickson, district manager of the Penney Stores, from St. Louis; August Gordon, owner of the building, and his son, Lawrence Gordon, both of Kansas City; Jack Crawford, agent for the building;

Vernon Rodick, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Del Heckart, first vice-president, J. L. Van Wagner, Jr., second vice-president, and Jack Faber, executive manager; Raymond Marks, assistant manager of the Penney Store; George H. Scruton and Kenneth U. Love, Sedalia Democrat Co.; and Milton Hinkle, KDRO.

In commenting on the newly remodeled building, August Gordon, owner, said, "I have explicit confidence in Sedalia and I am sure this will pay off. We feel a part of Sedalia," Gordon said, and added, "It is a privilege to live in this country."

R. E. Erickson, district manager, said, "We are happy to bring this kind of a store to Sedalia. We think Paul has earned a nice store. Penney's are putting in many fine stores over the country because we have a lot of faith in the future of this nation."

Paul Hedderich's only comment was: "Thanks to Sedalia."

Many huge baskets of flowers were over the store sent by various firms and organizations.

The front of the store was completed in time for the opening and is a shade of green with the name of the store in large white letters above the entrance.

Brown, Sutherland Get Awards—

Edgar T. Ward Is Elected President of Scout Council

At the annual meeting of the Lake of the Ozarks Council, Boy Scouts of America, held at Sedalia, Tuesday, the featured speaker of the evening was Dr. M. Graham Clarke, president of the School of the Ozarks at Point Lookout, Mo. This is a unique school which, according to its founder, Dr. Clarke, is run on faith — faith that the people will provide the funds necessary to supplement the work done by the boys and girls who attend this unique school. Dr. Clarke's speech was well received by the 150 scouts and their guests attending this annual meeting.

A special feature of the program at the annual meeting was the presenting of the Silver Beaver Award to two Scouts, Joseph F. Brown, Jefferson City, advisor of Post 1 sponsored by the First Methodist Church, and George Sutherland, of Marshall, commissioner of the Saline District. These men were given their Silver Beavers by Abe Silverman, Sedalia, chairman of the Silver Beaver committee. He was assisted by men who have earned the Silver Beaver in past years.

According to Mounts, the membership of the Council has grown from 1,763 in 1951 to 2,612 at the present time. This is a gain of 849 members. In 1951, there were only 90 units in the Council, today there are 100. In 1951, 323 boys camped at Camp Pa-He-Tsi. This year that number was stretched to 478. In 1951, 21 Explorers went to Philmont. This year a total of 37 went to Philmont. In 1951, 21 boys went on a Council-sponsored canoe trip. This year the total was 45. In 1951, 13 training certificates were listed as having been given. This year, already 228 such certificates have been issued. The amount of money raised for the Boy Scouts of America in the Lake of the Ozarks Council this year is $8,272.55 more than was raised to operate the Council in 1951.

In a very short time, President Ward will appoint the regular committees of the Board. Those committees will be charged with the responsibility of seeing that the Boy Scout program of the Council is made effective in the units of the Council. According to Mounts, there are 100 units now formed in the Lake of the Ozarks Council. These units are formed in all of the 11 counties which are

Police Take One Suspect In Kidnaping

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Police had one man in custody today and said they perhaps had wounded another of a three-man gang blamed with three kidnappings and a series of stickups in the past four days.

A furious manhunt for the two fugitives swirled through the metropolitan area all night.

The man in custody was identified as Lewis Williams, 25, released Oct. 22 from the Nevada State Penitentiary.

A pickup bulletin was put out for Louis Clifton Hess and Don Kilmoth Hess, brothers in their 20s, described by the FBI as former convicts associated with Williams in a crime spree on the West Coast.

Williams was arrested at a hotel here Tuesday night.

Williams and the Hess brothers were named in federal complaints charging them with kidnaping a cab driver. Williams also was named in a complaint charging he kidnaped a Johnson County (Kan.) housewife. He was to be arraigned on those charges today.

Maj. Eugene Pond, chief of detectives, said Raymond L. Brassfield, a cab driver, identified Williams as one of three men who kidnaped him Sunday and drove around four hours — apparently trying to perfect plans to stick up a super-market.

In Case You Are Confused—

Thanksgiving Will Arrive This Year on Next Thursday

By HAZEL LANG

Confusion seems to be all over the world but one of the top things in confusion in America this year seems to be when to observe Thanksgiving. The arguments in a presidential election year are usually all political, but not this year. While politics came in for its share, it had a close second in Thanksgiving.

The arguments were very much like the two old men who subscribed to the same newspaper and every day argued about things printed in the paper. Both of them were so certain they were right and would end their arguments with each saying, "Well, it's not that way in my paper."

That was exactly how arguments ended this year on Thanksgiving. One person would point to the red figures on his calendar

First Units of U. N. Police Force Land In the Canal Zone

Danish, Norwegian Troops Lead Unique Move; Colombians, More Norwegians Due In Second Group

LONDON (AP)—First units of the U.N. Middle East police force landed in the Suez Canal zone today. They were rushed in on urgent U. N. orders in a move to forestall the threat of Communist "volunteers" being poured into the tense area.

The first Swiss airliner loaded with 45 Danish troops touched down behind the Egyptian lines at Abu Suweir at 9:30 a.m. A second plane carrying 47 Norwegians landed at 10:02 a.m.

Abu Suweir is on the west side of the canal near Ismailia.

A third plane carrying equipment for the international police force landed 45 minutes later. The Swissair planes were chartered by the U. N. to move the police units and supplies to Egypt.

Word of the plane's arrival was radioed to the U. N. staging area at Capodichino, Italy, near Naples. Swissair officials said the aircraft were making a quick turnaround, but it appeared unlikely that a second contingent could be ferried to the canal zone today.

Later a U. N. spokesman said a second group of about 100 men will leave the staging area tomorrow for Egypt. He said the second contingent would be made up of the first Colombian troops and another party of Norwegians.

The command at Capodichino announced that the "technical problems with which we were faced seem now to be solved."

A spokesman added that the shutting of planes between the staging area and the canal zone will be speeded up in the next few days.

Nothing was said, however, about solution of the major political problems of where the force would operate in Egypt and for how long.

Orders for the U. N. peace army to get moving to Egypt were issued last night after an Arab diplomatic source had reported in Moscow that President Nasser had requested Russia to send volunteer forces to Egypt immediately.

Moscow dispatches today said Egyptian diplomatic sources there still declined to discuss the report. There was a complete blackout on information at the Egyptian Embassy there. Requests for confirmation or denial of the report were met by "no comment" or no one is available" who can discuss this matter."

US Views On Mid-East UN to Hear

Committee Passes Resolution Against Seating Red China

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Acting Secretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. is scheduled to spell out today for the U. N. General Assembly America's position on the Middle East and Hungarian crises.

There was some question, however, whether the 79-nation body would become bogged down in a wrangle over completing its agenda that might delay the start of general debate until tomorrow.

The United States last night pushed a resolution through the powerful Steering Committee recommending that the Assembly postpone for another year any action on seating Red China in the U. N. The 8-5 decision countered India's proposal that the Assembly put the question on its agenda.

India and the Soviet Union were expected to carry their fight to the Assembly. Although there was little likelihood of the committee's decision being upset, a protracted debate could follow.

Tension over the Middle East eased a little in the Assembly last night when word came that first units of the new U. N. police force had been ordered by Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to proceed to Egypt. Hammarskjold left New York by plane to take personal charge of the operation.

Hammarskjold acted as dispatches from Moscow said Egypt had called on Russia to permit thousands of "volunteers" to go to the Arab state.

President Eisenhower commented in Washington that the United States would oppose — probably through the U. N. — the entry of any such volunteers into Egypt.

Hard Freeze Warning Given For West, Central Missouri

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Much colder weather and some moisture moved into Missouri today, but the state will escape heavy snow.

A hard freeze warning was issued by the Weather Bureau for the west and central portions. Low readings by morning are expected to range from 20-25 in the west to the lower 30s in the extreme southeast.

Temperatures Friday are not expected to rise out of the 30s.

Keeps Military Data Policies Under Study

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Government Information subcommittee kept military information policies under scrutiny today.

Chairman Moss (D-Calif.) said there are some signs these are getting tighter. He referred specifically to a new set of Army formation regulations issued last week.

"At first blush," Moss said, "these look more restrictive than their present practices."

The subcommittee spent hours yesterday discussing with Defense Department and service lawyers a White House letter on policy to be followed by government employees called on to testify or provide documents to congressional committees.

Afterward Moss told newsmen he thinks the letter is a move toward easing restrictions by specifying that the information be given unless there is a specific order to the contrary from the President. But he said defense officials apparently take the opposite view and are "building a fence to protect their practices."

The letter was written by Gerald D. Morgan, special counsel to President Eisenhower, to Clark R. Mollenhoff, Washington correspondent of the Des Moines Register and Tribune, following up a question Mollenhoff raised at a presidential news conference.

A key section of Morgan's letter said, "An employee is not free merely to exercise his own discretion but in the final analysis information will be withheld only when the President or agency heads acting under the President's authority or instruction determine it is contrary to the public interest to disclose it."

Find Lost Handcuffs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Okay, so you find a pair of handcuffs on the sidewalk.

If you are 7 years old, like Sammy Garcia, and on your way home from school, you snap one end around one wrist.

Along comes Ronald Davis, 12, who snaps the other end around a garage door handle.

Sammy yelled for help. His mother Mrs. Frances Garcia arrived, took one look and called police.

They unlocked Sammy and the garage door, checked the serial number on the handcuffs and found that officer Richard Cullinan had lost them while on patrol.

Sen. Church Might Have Joined GOP

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—If Frank Church's father had been a Democrat, young Frank might have wound up as a Republican senator from Idaho.

But the elder Frank Church was a staunch Republican. And today his handsome son is a Democrat and will be the youngest member of the Senate when the 85th Congress convenes in January.

Church is a lanky, dark-haired lawyer who looks even younger than 32. Making good use of an engaging grin, a firm handshake and a polished speaking style, he beat Republican incumbent Herman Welker by some 50,000 votes in the general election Nov. 6.

Church says he started along the road to the Senate when he was in junior high school and his father, who loved to argue politics, used him as an opponent.

Besides being taken to hear both sides of politics at party rallies, young Frank had to bone up on Democratic principles and background to hold his own in the friendly family debates.

"By the time I was a senior in high school, I was a converted and confirmed Democrat, much to the amazement of my father," he said.

By then, too, he had decided he wanted to become a senator.

His father, a Boise merchant, died in 1950.

When he began campaigning this year he was practically unknown outside of Boise.

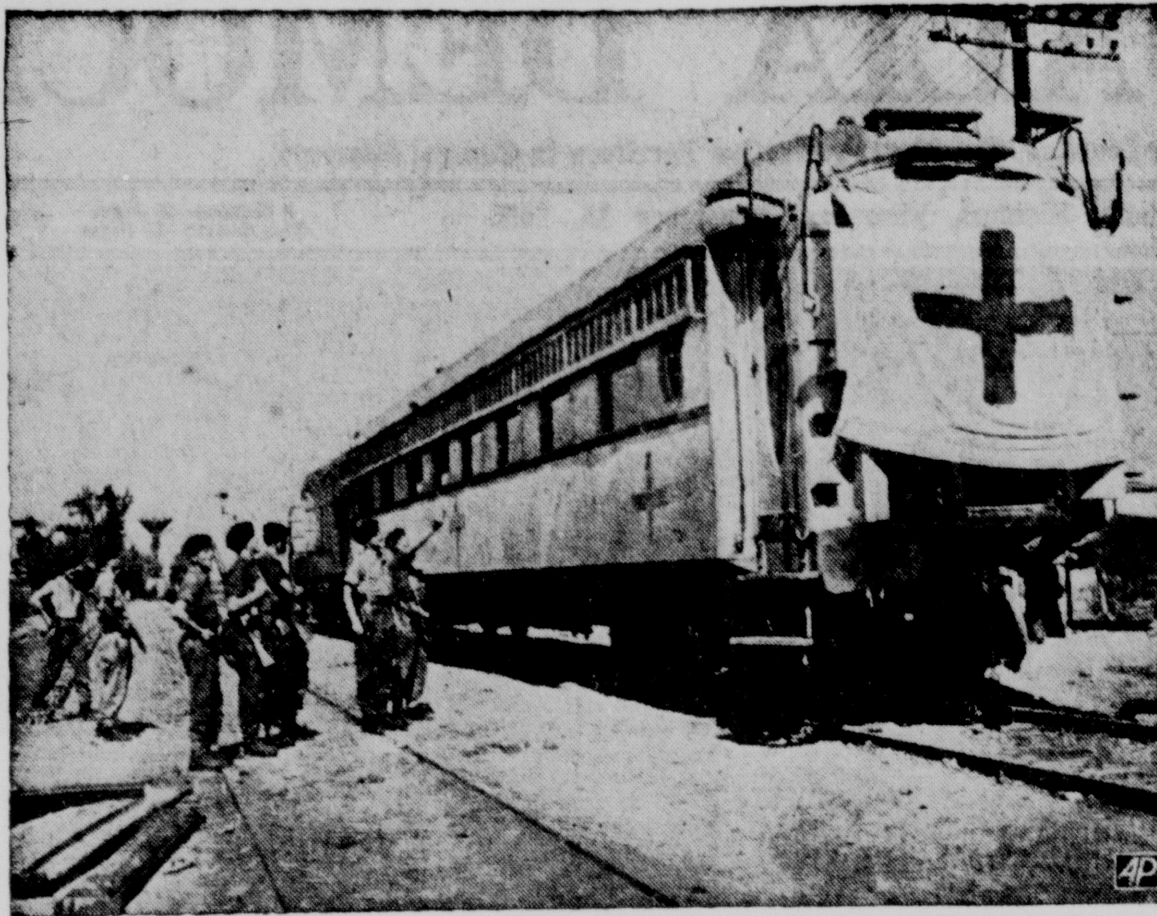

He got into his car and traveled at least 30,000 miles — not counting plane trips and travel with others.

His theme in the primary, in which he beat three other Democrats, including former Sen. Glen Taylor, was:

"Let's build Idaho and get away from the leadership which has kept it dormant these last 10 years."

Church received his law degree from Stanford after World War II service as an intelligence officer in India, Burma and China. He's married and has one son, 8-year-old Forrest.

Suez Invasion Is Described As a Blunder

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The British-French invasion of the Suez Canal zone was a "monumental blunder" that increased the prestige of Egyptian Premier Nasser among the Arab and Asian nations, the Associated Press Managing Editors Assn. was told today.

Max Harrelson, AP chief correspondent at the United Nations, told the second session of the four-day 23d annual APME conference that the British-French move "seriously damaged their relations with the United States and undermined their positions as Western champions of international law and order. It increased the prestige of Nasser among the Arab and Asian nations. It left a vacuum into which the Russians were quickly moving."

The explosion in the Middle East, Harrelson said, "was bound to occur."

"If Israel hadn't started it," he said, "Nasser would have. Everything pointed in that direction since September 1955 when the Russians made an arms deal with Egypt."

The determining factor, Harrelson added, "was the Soviet difficulties in Poland and Hungary."

And, he said, "the principal factor in the cease-fire and the agreement of Britain, France and Israel to withdraw was not public pressure or U.N. action but threats of Soviet intervention."

"All three invaders," he said, "were firmly convinced that Russia would move in and start a third world war."

Marine Pleads Guilty to Two Charges in Trial

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C. (AP)—Marine Pfc. Frederick A. Renton, accused of more than a dozen cases of striking and maltreating recruits at this sprawling Marine base, pleaded guilty at his court-martial trial yesterday to two specifications of the charges against him.

Several more charges remained against the 19-year-old New York City youth as the trial entered its second day.

Pvt. Harry Dinevari told the court that he was beaten up in a shower room. He testified that though he was "dazed and bleeding," Renton, who was the non-commissioned officer on duty at the time, refused to see to it he got medical aid.

Pvt. B. C. Howe of Northampton, Mass. testified that he was hit twice in the stomach for being slow in taking his mattress out of a barracks to air.

Since charges have been filed Renton has been reduced in rank from corporal to private first class and has been restricted to the base.

Ex-Hughesville Couple Observes 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur N. Gilbert of Ashdown, Ark., will be honored Sunday, Nov. 18, by all of their children and grandchildren at home as they celebrate their golden wedding anniversary.

They were married in Hughesville, and the following clipping of their wedding is copied from the Nov. 19, 1906 issue of The Sedalia Democrat:

"A. N. Gilbert, owner of the grain elevator at Hughesville, and Miss Mayme McGruder, sister of City Attorney Mark McGruder, of this city, were quietly married at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. M. McGruder, at Hughesville at 8 o'clock last night.

"Rev. J. H. Chaney, a Presbyterian minister from Independence, officiated in the presence of the following guests: The bride's mother, City Attorney and Mrs. Mark McGruder, and L. A. Coates, of Houstonia, a cousin of the bride, and his wife.

"Following the ceremony a sumptuous wedding supper was served at the bride's home, and soon after the bridal couple took a circuitous route to the Lexington branch train, thus eluding a large crowd of charivariers, coming to Sedalia where they spent the night, and leaving this morning for a honeymoon trip to Denison, Tex. and the south.

"Mr. Gilbert's home is at Tipton, but for some time he has been engaged in business at Hughesville. He is a promising young business man, well known and liked, and deserving of the young lady who has given him her heart and hand.

"The bride is a refined and cultured young girl, with a disposition that endears her to her every acquaintance, and on the most important step in life The Democrat joins in extending hearty congratulations."

Mr. Gilbert, who is timber overseer for the Stalcup Estate and an active farmer, and Mrs. Gilbert have been active in their community in Arkansas having moved there from Missouri in 1923. Mrs. Gilbert is president of her community Home Demonstration Club and past president of the Little River County HD Council.

They will be joined by their three daughters, Mrs. Fred Dudley of Ashdown, Miss Anne Gilbert of Magnolia, and Mrs. M. H. Thompson of Smackover; their sons-in-law, and their grandchildren, Norman Fred, Mamie Anne and Amy Jean Dudley of Ashdown and Julia Anne Thompson of Smackover as they receive friends, read letters from relatives and friends, and reminisce.

Beauty tips:

Apply non-greasy Satura Lotion before make-up—ideal base for the most natural, youthful look.

Satura is the marvelous, new beautifying liquid! Its scientific blend of powerful ingredients makes it tremendously effective—yet, it's a delightfully light, floating pink lotion. Its special moisturizers slow down the excessive evaporation that dries your skin and makes it old looking. They also pull moisture from the air and leave it mistily on your skin to give you that young, dewy look. Vitamin A enriches your skin and helps prevent dry flakiness. Other special and secret ingredients help make your skin soft, supple and smooth. Use lightly each night and you'll be absolutely delighted with your younger, far lovelier complexion. 4 oz. $5.00.

Lions Honor Counsellors At Noon Meet

The Sedalia Lions Club at its noonday meeting Wednesday honored the International Counsellors of their club, D. Kelly Scruton, the first Sedalia club member to be elected a District Governor, and E. B. Smith, who was the second. Both were named International Counsellors after their stints as Governors.

Scruton served as District Governor of International Association of Lions, Missouri Multiple District 26-C, in 1950-51 and Smith in 1955-56.

Carl Yates, program chairman, introduced the two. In his introduction Yates said, "The week of Nov. 11-17 has been designated by the International as International Counsellors Week."

"The International Counselor holds a unique position in the International Association. His title is one of merit and honor, and it commands dignity and respect. It was conferred upon him due to special service and loyalty to his district and to Lions International."

"Other officers may be elected for one or two years, but once the honorary title of International Counselor is given, it endures for life or as long as a Lion membership is maintained. Thus, men who have served as District Governors are not 'shelved' as Past District Governors and remembered only as those who once served, but they are elevated and given permanent recognition."

"They are men of honor and respect, men of experience, men of seasoned service, men capable of helping and counseling... Lions International Counsellors."

Scruton gave a brief talk on local club problems and Smith, the most recent Governor, spoke on his experiences in visitations, the International Convention, and the possible re-districting of Missouri.

The Rev. S. P. Williamson, interim pastor of the First Christian Church, Fairfield, Ia., was introduced as an International Counselor from Iowa. Rev. Williamson served as District Governor of District 9-B, Iowa, 1952-53. He gave a brief talk.

Joe Ruddick, first vice-president of the club, announced he was leaving Sedalia after nine years. Ruddick, a member of the club since coming to Sedalia, was very active in the affairs of the local organization. He is manager of the Fox Theatre and is being transferred to Joplin.

Other guests were: visiting Lion John E. Wickline, Jefferson City; Jack F. Reeder, Kansas City; of E. B. Smith; J. A. "Doc" Visenlin and Vernon Streak, National Engineering and Manufacturing Co., of Ad Taylor.

Attention was called by President Bob Cain to the combined Zone 2 of Region 1, and the Sedalia Lions board of directors meeting at the Bothwell Hotel Wednesday night.

ENTIRE EFFECTS OF INJURY SOMETIMES NOT APPARENT

By Dr. J. J. Rodewald

Regardless of how minor an injury may seem the after effects can become quite serious. Blows, falls, twists, or bumps are the types of injuries which do the most unsuspecting damage. When the bruise heals and the pain subsides one ordinarily forgets the past injury.

The spine acts as a shock absorber to the body. If the injury is too great, it may misalign some of its parts and do a great deal of damage to the body as time goes on.

The situation is much the same as a car accident where in the frame of the car is twisted and the fenders dented. In no amount of paint and polish applied would remove the dents or straighten out the bent frame. The framework of the human body is not held together nearly as well as that of a car, yet it is subject to as much injury and misalignment.

The doctor of chiropractic locates and corrects misalignments which disturb function or cause disease. Health is your most prized possession, don't neglect it. Phone 392 for an appointment, today.

OBITUARIES

Earl W. (Slat) Hoberecht, 60, Earl W. (Slat) Hoberecht, 60, member of a pioneer Sedalia family, died at 11:30 p.m. Wednesday at Burge Hospital, Springfield, after two paralytic strokes. He was a son of the late Herman and Mrs. Elizabeth Hoberecht, his father having preceded him in death several years ago and his mother two years ago.

Mr. Hoberecht when a young man attended and graduated from Sedalia High School and while in school was active in athletics, especially football and track. Finishing schooling here, he attended Drury College, Springfield, and was a member of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. For some time he was a member of the Sedalia Democrat's news staff, later with the Springfield Republican and Leader before serving in World War I and was business manager several years for the Warrensburg Star-Journal. He was interested in publication of the American Legionnaire for a time, and was active in the Elks lodge.

He founded and managed the Stuart and Hall Stationery Co. in Kansas City, later going to California, where he operated the Strathford Stationery Co., from which he retired and moved to Springfield last April.

He was a member of the Lutheran Church.

Surviving him are: his wife of the home, 1040 Walnut, Springfield; a daughter, Miss Virginia Hoberecht, Detroit, Mich.; a brother, Leslie G. Hoberecht, Lakewood, O.; and numerous Sedalia relatives.

The body is at the Klingner's mortuary.

Funeral services will be there on Saturday afternoon with burial at Springfield.

Mrs. Emma Davis

Mrs. Emma Davis, 90, a resident of the California, Mo., community a greater portion of her life, died at 10 a.m. Wednesday at St. Mary's Hospital, Jefferson City, where she had been a patient for 24 hours. For several years she had resided at St. Joseph's Home near Jefferson City.

She was born April 7, 1876, daughter of the late Martin and Marie Weffer Jahn. She was married to John Hodler, who died 22 years ago, and later to Robert B. Davis of Piedmont, Mo., who died eight years ago.

Surviving are: five sisters and a brother, Mrs. James Wilson and Miss Alice Jahn, Colorado Springs, Colo.; Mrs. Arch Reeves, Canon City, Colo.; Mrs. Oscar Holdman, California; Mrs. Milton Clay, Grand Canyon, Colo.; and W. C. Jahn, Weatherford, Okla.

She was a member of the Bethel Methodist Church near Jamestown, where funeral services will be Saturday afternoon, Nov. 17, with burial in the church cemetery. The body is at the Wilson Funeral Home, California.

Ernest Chancey Services

Funeral rites for Ernest Chancey, 59, former Sedalia who died at Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., early Monday, will be at 9 a.m. Friday at Sacred Heart Catholic Church, with the Rev. A. J. Brunswick, parish priest to officiate.

Palibearers will be Don Chancey, John Swartz, Jr., Harold Stuhner, Clyde Kanenbley, Robert and Amos Klein.

Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery.

The body of Mr. Chancey arrived in Sedalia over the Missouri Pacific at 12:15 p.m. Thursday and was taken to the McLaughlin Funeral Chapel. At 8 p.m. Thursday the rosary will be recited there.

Mr. Chancey in 1947 retired after being connected with a chain of beauty parlors at Detroit, Mich., and since had been residing at Ft. Lauderdale.

Survivors of Mr. Chancey include his wife, Mrs. Louise Chancey, Pompano Beach, Fla.; a sister, Mrs. Mary Swartz, Menlo, Ia.; three brothers, Sam Chancey, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.; William, Seattle, Wash.; and Roy Chancey, Whitefish, Mont.

Mrs. Harriet B. Martine

Mrs. Harriet Bette Martine, 78, Kansas City, died Wednesday at St. Luke's hospital after a long illness.

She was born in Sedalia. Mrs. Martine had lived in Kansas City five years.

She leaves a niece, Mrs. Walter Ross, Grandview, and a nephew, J. M. Eagle, Los Angeles.

Private services will be held at 8:30 o'clock Friday at the New Corner chapel and at 9 o'clock at Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church in Kansas City.

First of Series in Nation--

Community Sing Will Be Main Feature Of DeMolay Event at Convention Hall

Community singing will be the outstanding feature of the DeMolay Sing which will be held at Convention Hall, Liberty Park, at 8 p.m. Saturday with R. Eugene Brittan, Kansas City, director of education of the International Supreme Council Order of DeMolay, as leader in the first of a series of DeMolay sings to be held throughout the nation.

The purpose for this series of DeMolay Sings is to inspire more community singing, not only among the DeMolays but among all people, and everyone is welcome to join in the great sing Saturday night. It is free to the public. Based on the old time song festivals, the songs will be old songs that everyone knows and loves to sing, and many hymns. At the organ will be Miss Doris Stott and at the piano, William Morgan, both of Sedalia.

A program will intersperse the community singing and part of the entertainment will be by the Missouri Pacific Men's Choral Club of Sedalia.

The Foggy River Boys from the Ozark Jubilee, Springfield, will have a part on the program as will the Ararat Shrine Quartet of Kansas City.

One of the most impressive parts of the program will be the Flower Talk to be given by Henry E. Edinger, state Flower Talk champion, St. Louis. The Flower Talk is always given at the end of the Initiatory Degree of the DeMolay and is a tribute to motherhood. Short stemmed flowers, red and white, are placed on the altar. One part of the Flower Talk is as follows: "The Order of DeMolay teaches many beautiful lessons but none more important than honor and true respect for womanhood and more especially for motherhood." As the Flower Talk is completed, telling of the deepness and sacredness of mother love and what it means in the life of a boy, the newly-initiated DeMolay is asked to take a flower from the altar, a red one, if his mother is living, which he takes home to her and tells her it is the DeMolay's recognition of God's best gift to man — his mother's love. If the mother is dead, he takes a white flower to keep always as a sacred memory to his mother's love.

The Legion of Honor composed of Aubrey Brooks Case, Ernest O. Holst, Ernest O. Pasley, J. Morton Weakley and James W. Wood, all of Sedalia and the Honorary Legion of Honor, Oma Richard Cox and Howard J. Gwinn, Sedalia and L. D. Heinlein, Springfield, will serve as ushers.

Keep either a straight-edged knife or a small spatula in your kitchen for leveling off a cup (or fractions of a cup) when you are measuring dry ingredients.

District Deputy Pays Official Visit to Elks

A big turnout of Elks greeted District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler Lyndon Sturges, of the Springfield, Mo., lodge Wednesday night when he paid his official visit to the local lodge. He presented an excellent report from Elks national headquarters and the Elks National Foundation.

Exalted Ruler Moore and his fellow officers of No. 125 initiated the following into membership in honor of the official's visit:

Vernon H. Bingham, Bill Burkholder, E. V. Bishop, Dan Doty, Jr., William Logan, Flint Gamel, Don Lamm, Jr., Charles Lettlich, George H. Meyer, George H. Miller, Leo McShane, George Urban and Carl Yates Jr.

Refreshments and a social time followed the initiation. A delegation of Warrensburg Elks attended as well as other out-of-town members.

Thanksgiving

contributes to the dinner. The dinner was to be held in Sedalia and there had been considerable arranging for it between the families in different places. The women at whose home it was to be held was doing her planning for the 29th. Just what the other people were planning is a question but likely they didn't even discuss the date but were planning on Thanksgiving Day as if everybody knew. It was just a week to the day before that she found out that if she hadn't found out until that day everybody would have come in with the trimmings for the turkey and no turkey. She and her family might have even gone to work on the 22nd and been surprised to find everything locked up. Well, they can be thankful a whole week early that they found out the date of Thanksgiving in time.

For those still doubtful as to how the date of this Thanksgiving was arrived at in a month of five Thursdays, the World Almanac, even as far back as 1950 and that is the oldest one we could find, states that Thanksgiving is always on the fourth Thursday of November and Webster's dictionary also agrees.

No matter whether you agree or not, no matter what calendar you look at, Americans will be giving thanks and eating turkey this year on Nov. 22.

Joe Ruddick

Joe Ruddick Is Transferred To Springfield

Joe Ruddick, who for the past ten years has been manager of the Fox Theatre in Sedalia, is being transferred to Joplin where he will be manager of the Fox and Paramount Theatres. He will assume his duties there Nov. 27. Joe, his wife, Hazel, two sons, Joe, nine years old, and Pete, six years old, and Mrs. Ruddick's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Vanderlinden, who makes her home with them, reside at 1814 West Fifth.

The Ruddicks are deep rooted in Sedalia. It is here that both of their boys were born and the first home they ever owned was here. Coming to Sedalia from Marshall, they entered into the activities of the community and have certainly become part of it.

Ruddick is a director of the Chamber of Commerce, first vice-president of the Lions Club, committee chairman of Cub Scout Pack 65, is a member of the Elks Lodge, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion. He is past chairman of the Selective Service Board, past director and fund campaign chairman of the American Red Cross. Mrs. Ruddick is active in Cub Scouting, PTA, the Helen G. Steele Music Club and teaches a Sunday School class in the First Christian Church of which they are all members. The boys attend Broadway school. During his ten years here, Joe has much to remember about the theatre here, too. His employees have liked him and have been loyal to him. They have stayed with him through the years until something took them away. Some of them had to go into service, some of the girls married and left and now Charlie King has retired. Two of his employees during that ten years received the Chamber of Commerce Courtesy Awards.

Ruddick always tried to please Sedalians and had special shows for the youngsters, presented the art series, and had showing of certain pictures for the Helen G. Steele Music Club members and other organizations. He was always ready to cooperate for the Lions Club Show and queen contests. But perhaps the foremost memory of Joe's management of the Fox Theatre in his own mind and the minds of many Sedalians was in 1948, when he brought the World Premier of "Scudda Hoo-Scudda Hay" to Sedalians. Movie stars, Jean Harlow, people from everywhere came and along with them all the most terrible snowstorm the town has had in many years. But even with the cold and the spring snow the World Premiere was a real success.

Sedalia Schools Will Observe Education Week November 12-16

The week of Nov. 12-16 has been set aside as American Education Week, at which time the schools make a special endeavor to show the public what they are doing. All parents are cordially invited to visit school this week and observe their functioning.

Baby Sitter Gets Sentence For Deaths

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Baby attendant Virginia Jaspers, her blonde hair awry and her pale face red and tear-streaked, was led from a courtroom yesterday to begin serving 10 to 22 years in prison.

Miss Jaspers, 33, was convicted of the fatal shaking of two of the infants she cared for.

A big woman (she weighs 220 and stands six feet), she entered the courtroom smiling, and joked with attendants.

She sat with her plump arms folded tightly over her blue sweater as a state's attorney read her confession. She heard, in her own words, of the "uncontrollable urge" that made her grasp 11-day-old Abbey Kapsinow by both arms, press her thumbs against the tiny chest, and shake the child violently.

That was last August. She did the same to 2-month-old Jennifer Malkin in 1951. Both died. Police said she admitted killing a third in 1948 — too long ago to allow prosecution.

She heard her own words, the closest she ever came to offering a motive: "I guess I was angry in my own mind because they wouldn't stop crying."

One of her lawyers called her

First Hungarian Refugees to Arrive In US By Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first of some 5,000 Hungarian refugees may arrive in this country by late next week.

This was announced yesterday by White House press secretary James C. Hagerty, who said they will be housed temporarily at the Army's Camp Kilmer, N. J.

Last week, President Eisenhower ordered this country's doors opened for up to 5,000 Hungarians who have fled Soviet oppression.

Hagerty said officials who run the refugee relief law have been "just snowed under" by offers from Americans to provide the Hungarians with homes, jobs and other aid.

He said Camp Kilmer has enough barracks and other facilities to handle about 500 refugees in the immediate future. In another month, Hagerty added, the camp will be able to accommodate "several thousand" others.

a "physical misfit in society from childhood," and a "victim of her own size."

She stood, impassive, to hear the judge pronounce sentence.

Then she turned and started to walk back to where her parents were sitting, and her control broke.

She stumbled and burst into uncontrollable sobs and collapsed in a chair.

Mistaken Identity

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maldonado heard something move in their bedroom. They called Maldonado's brother Manuel. After inspecting a portable closet, Manuel said:

"It must be a badger. Badgers bite. We'll have to kill it."

The brothers pressed against the closet door to squeeze the animal to death. But the badger turned out to be a skunk. The skunk died. But the memory lingered on.

Optimism: Philosophy Of Life

Without Creeds, Goals or Plans service clubs would be as flat and insipid as a stale chocolate ice cream soda.

All clubs are established on certain fundamentals which weak-hearted members never recognize, but which active participants in the objectives find uplifting.

Such a club in Sedalia is now observing Optimist Week along with 1,200 other Optimist Clubs.

There's something fascinating in one of the promises in this organization's creed: "To let nothing disturb your peace of mind."

Now that, indeed, is a big order, but coincides with the thinking of Dr. Bernard Hecht, New York physician, whose article in Journal of Living declared that "Physical symptoms blamed on something you ate may be caused by something you hate. He says thousands of people are plagued by stomach disorders like heartburn, gas pains and nausea without any discernible physical cause. Such pains are very real to the sufferer, but as Dr. Hecht says, they may actually come from bottled-up resentments.

If that is the case, then the Optimist club ought to have an overflowing membership of those seeking the secret of cure in the promise to "Let nothing disturb your peace of mind."

But let's take a look at some other promises in the Optimist Creed: "To make all your friends feel that there is something good in them; to look at the sunny side of everything; to think only of the best, work only for the best, and expect only the best; to be as enthusiastic about others' successes as you are about your own; not to dwell on past mistakes; to improve yourself rather than to criticize others; and to ward off fear, worry, anger and trouble with happiness and a smile."

Those promises may seem insurmountable, but the fact that Optimists make an effort to keep them is reflected in their attitude toward fellow men and particularly the job of helping boys.

For helping boys is one of the majority activities of the Optimist club and the Sedalia members have done an outstanding job in this respect over many years.

What finer goal could any men's organization recognize than "Every Boy Needs A Man's Helping Hand," and then do something constructive about it.

We think that is just exactly what the Sedalia Optimist club is doing locally, and we cheer them on to greater efforts supported by adherence to a noble Creed.

Irresistible Force and Immovable Object

The World Today—

Western Influence Rests on Leadership

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The kind of world leadership President Eisenhower asserts now may mean the difference between a new war and none and between the retention of Western influence in the Middle East or the loss of it to Russia.

Two main choices confronted him:

1. He could have taken a strong, individual position for the United States — even outside the United Nations — and even to the extent of warning the Russians of direct American intervention if they send their "volunteers" into Egypt.

2. Or he could — as he did — throw the weight of the United States behind the U.N. without any explicit warnings beyond saying this country would back up the world organization to keep peace in the Middle East by opposing "volunteers" in Egypt.

Only time will show whether this choice was the wiser one or whether, since Eisenhower left obscure how this country would back up the U.N., the Russians may interpret it as weakness and send in their "volunteers."

But if he had chosen No. 1 the Russians might have felt it necessary to chance war by defying him. To appear to back down under his direct warning would mean not only humiliation for them but loss of their influence in the Middle East.

By choosing to work through the

Looking Backward...

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Fire of undetermined origin ruined the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Duskey in the 1000 block on South Harrison Saturday and damaged two others, one of Edward Brummet and the other of Mrs. T. Kellner, 1011 South Harrison.

1931
The LaMonte Record was sold by its proprietor, A. J. Hodges, to Miss Leona Payne, a former reporter on the Crane Chronicle, a weekly newspaper.

1931
Miss Estle Rucker, St. Louis, who had been spending a few days with Miss Lizzie Allison, 516 South Kentucky, left for Kansas City for a short stay before returning home.

1931
According to a report to Dr. J. G. Love, registrar for vital statistics for the City of Sedalia, Flat Creek, Prairie and Sedalia townships, births for October exceeded deaths by one. Births registered were 31 and deaths 30.

FORTY YEARS AGO

At a meeting of the vestry of Calvary Episcopal Church, the contract for erection of a two-story brick veneer residence to be used as a rectory was awarded to John C. Warren and Son, contractors. It was to be located directly east of the church.

1916
Mark A. McGruder, state senator, left for Keytesville on professional business.

1916
T. R. Luckett, county superintendent of schools, John P. Gass, of the city schools and a delegation of teachers left for St. Louis to attend sessions of the State Teachers' Association Nov. 16-18.

1916
Lee Brandt, son of John Brandt, West Main Street grocer, accepted a position as salesman for Wilson and Co. packers of Kansas City.

U.N. and avoiding provocative statements Eisenhower achieves at least these three things:

He maintains this country's moral position; he strengthens the U.N., which was badly weakened by the Russian assault on Hungary and the British-French-Israeli invasion of Egypt; and he assures this country of allies if it gets into the fighting as a result of a U.N. demand for military action by its members in the Middle East.

Maybe Eisenhower's choice is the best way to go about it. Only the Russians know the answer to that. But neither the U. N. nor the Russians nor Americans know at this moment how far Eisenhower would go to back up the U. N.

The President has a habit of being vague at his news conferences. But his meeting yesterday with reporters — almost at the moment reports from Moscow said the Egyptians were requesting Russian "volunteers" — may have set a new record for obscurity.

He was asked what this country would do if the Russians sent

"volunteers" into Egypt. His answer: "I believe . . . it would be the duty of the United Nations, which would include the United States, to oppose such an effort."

But oppose how: by making speeches, merely approving pious resolutions, or by force if necessary? He was asked what form "our opposition" would take. He said: "I don't know exactly what we would do. It would depend upon the circumstances."

And he added that the U. N. "is not by any manner of means limited to resolutions."

If this vagueness discourages the Russians from trying a military adventure in Egypt, or confuses them, or sounds like a go-ahead to them, at least Eisenhower indicated before his news conference started he might be vague.

He told the reporters in his preliminary statement he did not want to say anything which might upset the delicate efforts now being made by the U. N. to move into the Suez Canal area and assure and end to the fighting.

Ruth Millet Says—

Wives Remember: Men Are Sensitive About Age, Too

Men hate to grow old every bit as much as women do. But you wouldn't think it, the way some wives constantly make remarks that call attention to their husband's age.

Who doesn't know the wife who is always reminding her husband in front of others that he isn't as young as he used to be?

Who doesn't know the wife who thinks her husband's baldness is something to kid about? And he is supposed to laugh with the rest when she has her little joke at the expense of his receding hairline.

Who doesn't know the wife who thinks it is her duty to remind George that he had better be leaving the party? It's because, of course, poor George just can't stay up late the way he could when he was younger.

Women struggle hard to look as young as they can and they are usually pretty coy about their ages.

Most husbands know the score and never, never say anything to make a wife feel she is growing old. They are even gallant enough to keep reassuring a wife that she is even prettier than she was the day they were married. This is not because she is, but because it is a pleasant and harmless bit of illusion to tell her so.

Why aren't wives as gallant toward their husbands? All it takes is a little tact to make a man feel young instead of old.

Why should a wife ever make a husband feel old when it means so much to her to have him make her feel young?

Israel, UN Sign Relief Agreement

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP)—Officials of Israel and the U.N. Relief and Works Agency have initiated an agreement for continued assistance of 200,000 Arab refugees in the Israeli-held Gaza Strip. Unrwa had been assisting the refugees before Israel seized the Gaza Strip from Egypt.

Forger Uses Name Of Sheriff on Check

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Maricopa County Sheriff L. C. Boies is looking for a daring forger who cashed a $64 check in a Phoenix supermarket. Here's how the man signed the bogus check: "L. C. Boies, Maricopa County Sheriff."

Experts Air Their Views On Results of Election

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON — The big riddle of the 1956 elections is why a Democratic Senate and House were elected along with a Republican President who landed to victory.

This phenomenon violates all rules of political coattail riding.

If Ike was so good, why didn't he sweep in a Republican Congress?

Or if Adlai was so bad, why did not he drag Democratic congressional candidates down to defeat, too?

You can get any number of expert opinions on this subject.

Republican National Committee headquarters a tabulation which shows simply that the Republican organization did all right east of the Mississippi, but failed miserably west of the Mississippi.

In elections to the House of Representatives, the GOP gained at least 10 Eastern seats and lost only one—the September election in Maine.

Republican gains were one seat each in Connecticut, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Illinois, New York. They won two seats in New Jersey and West Virginia. They may win one or two more in close races in New York and New Jersey, on the final count.

West of the Mississippi, the Republicans lost eight seats in Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, Oregon and South Dakota. On the final count they may lose additional seats in Iowa and Oregon.

The same situation is true in the Senate races. The Republicans had net gains of two seats east of the Mississippi but lost two west of the Mississippi.

The gains were one in New York and West Virginia and two in Kentucky, but the GOP lost two Senate seats in Ohio and Pennsylvania.

West of the Mississippi the Republicans lost Senatorial seats in Idaho and Colorado.

So much for the facts of the situation. The interpretation is that in the big industrial city states, the GOP did all right. But in the rural and farm states, drought and the decline of farm prices contributed to defeating Republican candidates.

The good congressional candidates are said to have survived this handicap in the western states. But if the candidates were at all weak, or the party organization was weak, Eisenhower's popularity could not help.

President Eisenhower's heavy inroads in the traditionally Democratic South are attributed to two principal factors.

One is that Stevenson was a flop in the South. He was too much of an Ivy League intellectual.

On top of this, the threats of war in Europe and the Middle East convinced many they didn't want Stevenson for commander-in-chief.

Democratic analyses of what happened run more to the emotional type. The principal complaint is that the Republicans spent so much more money to elect Eisenhower that they practically bought the election at auction.

Democrats say they would have needed five million dollars more for advertising publicity and air time to put Stevenson across.

On the congressional front, there is some bitterness in Democratic ranks that Gov. Harriman of New York and Gov. Chandler of Kentucky did not exert themselves more to save three Senate seats and the national ticket.

But in general, the Democrats think their congressional candidates were able to run ahead of the national ticket because senators and representatives had been in closer contact with the people of their states during the last four years.

From both party headquarters come admissions that voters don't follow party labels the way they used to. Nearly everyone is an expert at ticket-splitting.

From the Democratic viewpoint, this explains why many voted for Ike but would not vote for Republican congressmen because they felt the GOP conservatives would not support his program.

Finally, the war crisis of the last two weeks in the campaign gave many people a feeling of wanting to let things alone. This contributed to keeping both Eisenhower and the present Democratic majorities in both houses of Congress.

Dr. Jordan Says—

Rats Are Dangerous And Costly Enemies of Man

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.

Every once in a while, I am moved to write a column against rats. Possibly sometime, somewhere a human being has been befriended by a rat, but if so, he or she has kept mighty quiet about it.

Rats are intelligent, prolific and fierce, and they have a greater survival power than have human beings. They can live on the same foods we do, as well as a lot of others which we discard. It is believed there are as many rats in the United States as there are people.

The cost of rats to our economy is terrific; its total can hardly be calculated. As long ago as 1909, for example, it was calculated that rats in Washington and Baltimore alone damaged each year food and property worth between $400,000 and $700,000.

Rats carry many diseases of man and animals, including plague (the black death of the Middle Ages), typhus or jail fever, rat bite fever and Weil's disease. Plague is a constant danger because it is present in rats in many parts of the world.

Plague eventually kills the rats, too. When this happens, the rat flea, which harbors the germ causing plague, leaves the dead rat's body and seeks the nearest alternate host, which is usually one of us.

Lantz, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, has listed some of the most destructive activities of rats. They eat corn during growth and in cribs; a single rat can eat from 40 to 50 pounds of corn a year. They destroy merchandise. The rat destroys poultry, wild birds, ducks, woodcocks and song birds. They attack bulbs, seeds and plants.

Hagenbeck, the circus magnate, said he had to kill three elephants because the rats had gnawed their feet. Rats have chewed holes in dams and started floods, and have caused fires by igniting matches.

But this is not all. Rats bite human beings. A study from Baltimore a few years ago recorded nearly one hundred persons who were bitten by rats so badly they had to go to a hospital for treatment! Experiments were made which indicated that rats like the taste of human blood. They bite people because they are hungry.

There is nothing whatever I like about the wild rat.

Guest Editorial—

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR: A Victory Over Fear. One aspect of the presidential election which merits more attention than it has had is the emphatic way the voters rebuked the prophets of doom. Weeks ago when fears were being expressed about the President's health this newspaper pointed out that the people would have an excellent opportunity to judge that question under the grueling conditions of the campaign. Their judgment was rendered unmistakably on Tuesday.

It was made in the face of opposition suggestions that Mr. Eisenhower would be unable to serve out a second term, so that the real Republican candidate was Vice-President Nixon. It was made despite an ugly whispering campaign which went even further. It was made squarely against dire predictions of imminent catastrophe offered in material widely circulated by individuals who believe in astrology.

By none of these things was the electorate turned aside. Indeed, doubts became so slim that the issue faded as the campaign progressed. Reports were made on a medical examination. But it appeared that millions of Americans had already made their own favorable estimates of the President's vigor and had accepted his confidence in his continued ability to serve effectively.

So the tremendous popular majority rolled up in the balloting was a striking national victory over fear, a magnificent expression of trust.

Vain Search

It makes dismal reading that for the second successive year the Nobel Peace Prize Committee meeting in Norway has been unable to find anyone worthy of its cherished award.

We must assume that the committee has searched diligently for a citizen of the world whose contributions to the cause of peace merited their accolade. That they could not find one is perhaps an acute commentary on these times.

Peace is the great goal of free men. Yet to give it lasting foundations today seems a more elusive task than ever. In many corners of the earth leaders in varying walks of life are striving desperately to accomplish it. Despite their efforts, the Nobel committee had to say sadly: "None of these will do."

And as the committee returns to the search for another year, the explosive events of Europe and the Middle East underscore their trials.

Dates Ahead

Friday, Nov. 16—Extension club Clothing Leaders training meeting, First Methodist Church, Fourth and Osage, 10 a.m. to 3:15 p.m. Lesson, "Trims and Decorative Detail." Achievement Day Style Revue movie to be shown at 10 a.m.

Tuesday, Nov. 20 — Farm and Home Planning family dinner, 7 p.m., Horace Mann School. C. E. Stevens Jr., extension agriculture engineer, Columbia, will be the speaker.

Saturday, Nov. 24 — "Make It Yourself With Wool" contest. Girls 13 to 15 years of age eligible. Contestant will enter a skirt made from 100 per cent wool.

Monday, Dec. 10 — Extension Club County Council meeting and Health Chairmen training meeting.

Saturday, Dec. 1—4-H Recognition Night.

Extension Club Activities
During the past two weeks we in the extension office have been reviewing the past year's activities. Each day, week or month may not show a true picture of the various activities. However, when we summarize reports from the extension clubs, 4-H clubs and various committees we find the people in Pettis County have carried out many worthwhile activities where values to each one participating are not measurable in numbers but hold educational values and self satisfaction for each individual involved. A few of the accomplishments for the 34 extension clubs representing 816 women are: $603.15 donated by 27 clubs to various funds, $110.58 from 22 clubs went to the Crippled Children's Center at Bothwell Hospital. In addition to money contributions, 16 clubs made 2124 cancer dressings for the Pettis County Cancer Society and 19 clubs made 768 diapers for Children's Mercy Hospital, Kansas City. All 34 clubs had a lesson on foods, clothing and home management. Other subjects presented were: wardrobe planning, public affairs, family relations, United Nations, marketing, installment buying, health, safety, farm and home planning, family living, recreation, insurance, parliamentary procedure, gardening, home grounds and 4-H. Two hundred and fifty-seven women made 1,561 dresses and garments as a result of the clothing lesson. Simple Dress Construction. Two county style revues were held where a total of 129 women modeled their dresses made in their clothing project.

County Council Meeting Dec. 10
The quarterly meeting of the Extension Club County Council will be Monday, Dec. 10. Extension club health chairmen will attend this meeting with the club presidents. Arrangements are being made for a tour of the Crippled Children's Center at Bothwell Hospital. Also a plastic heart donated by the Pettis County Heart Council will be demonstrated.

Turkey Stuffing
Roast turkey usually means the added treat of a favorite stuffing or dressing. A good stuffing has a pleasing texture—moist or crumbly. It is well-seasoned with no one flavor predominating. Lightness is important. The stuffing should be spooned into the cavity—not packed. Extra dressing can be baked in a separate pan, basting it with the pan drippings or broth from the giblets.

Favorite Bread Stuffing With Variations
1 cup fat
1 cup minced onion
1 quart diced celery
4 quarts small bread cubes, firmly packed (2 to 4 day-old bread, 1½ lb. loaf)
1 tablespoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoons poultry seasoning
1½ to 2 cups broth, milk or water

Cook onion and celery in fat over low heat until onion is soft but not browned, stirring occasionally. Meanwhile blend seasonings with bread cubes. Add the onion, celery and fat. Blend. Pour the broth gradually over surface, stirring lightly. Add more seasoning as desired. Stuffing for a 14 to 18 pound turkey.

Variations for Stuffing
Apple Stuffing: Add two cups chopped apples to the Prune or Sausage Stuffing.
Biscuit Stuffing: Use four quarts of crumbled day-old biscuits instead of bread.

Chestnut Stuffing: Add two cups boiled chestnuts to stuffing before adding liquid. To prepare chestnuts: Place one pound raw chestnuts (in shells) in cold water to cover. Bring to boil, reduce heat and simmer for 15 minutes. Drain. Peel and skin. Chop coarsely.

Cornbread Stuffing: Reduce bread to two quarts. Add two quarts of crumbled cornbread or cornmeal muffins.

Egg Stuffing: Add three to four well-beaten eggs to bread mixture. Giblet Stuffing: Brown chopped, cooked turkey giblets in the fat before adding onion and celery.

Oyster Stuffing: Cook one to two pints oysters in the oyster liquid until edges curl. Add to bread with seasonings. Include oyster liquid as part or all of the liquid in stuffing. Chop oysters if they are large.

Parsley Stuffing: Add ½ cup finely chopped parsley to bread with seasoning.

Prune Stuffing: Remove pits from ½ to one pound dried prunes which have been cooked or soaked. Cut prunes into three or four pieces. Add to bread with seasonings. Include prune juice as part or all of the liquid.

Sausage Stuffing: Omit fat. Reduce poultry seasoning to one teaspoon. Cook one pound of sausage meat slowly until browned—breaking it into small pieces with a fork as it cooks. Add onion and celery and continue cooking until onion is transparent. Proceed as above. Use the sausage fat in the stuffing.

Note: Extra stuffing may be baked in loaf pan or casserole the last hour of turkey cooking. Baste with pan juices.

Pool Car
NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Ralph Pool, a Norfolk newspaperman, found his car missing when he started to go home from work. Three days later he found it parked where he had left it, but with much more mileage on the speedometer. It also had a lot more gasoline in the tank.

Leahy, Merz and Clarke—

Colorado Has 3 Senior Ends Trying for Conference Spots

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Despite the lack of a passing attack, Colorado has three senior ends making strong bids for a berth on the All-Big Seven Conference team.

Heading the list is Jerry Leahy, followed by Wally Merz and Frank Clarke.

Other top contenders for the end positions are Don Siller and John Bell of Oklahoma and Jim Letcavits of Kansas. Siller is a senior, Bell and Letcavits are juniors.

Clarke and Letcavits have a statistical edge but the others are valued highly by their coaches for offensive blocking and defensive abilities.

The latest conference statistics, including games of last weekend, show Letcavits, a 185-pound, 6-1 product from Massillon, Ohio, is the No. 2 pass receiver in the league.

He has made 11 catches for 210 yards.

A left footed kicker, Letcavits also ranks high among the punters with a 34.8 yard average on 19 boots.

The Colorado single-wing offense places the emphasis on blocking for the ends with few opportunities for them to show consistent receiving ability.

The Buffs also lack a strong passer.

But Clarke has hauled in six passes for 120 yards, including two for touchdowns, against Missouri last week in Colorado's 14-14 tie with the Tigers.

Leahy is described as a "mediocre beginner" who turned into a rough, rugged, dependable performer strictly because of great desire.

He is credited with ending at least three touchdown drives against the Buffs in crucial situations this year.

Merz is rated as one of the most valuable men on the Buff squad by Coach Dal Ward and his staff.

A Chicagoan, he has never been a target in the weak Buff aerial game. A standout defensive player, the 6-4, 215-pounder has been a fixture for the past two seasons.

Only four conference games remain on the 1956 schedule.

This week Missouri goes to Oklahoma and Iowa State to Kansas State while Kansas plays UCLA at Los Angeles; Colorado is at Utah and Nebraska meets Baylor at Lincoln in non-league games.

Nebraska plays Oklahoma at Norman Nov. 24 and Kansas meets Missouri at Columbia Dec. 1 to wind up conference activity.

Seven non-league games are yet to be played, including the three this weekend.

Lane's Manager Wants Title Bout After Win In Bout With Ryff

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Jack Kearns is beating the drums for an early lightweight title bout for his boy Kenny Lane, and the crafty old manager said he had $75,000 in cash with which to lure the champion, Joe Brown.

"This showed Lane is championship caliber," Kearns said last night after his battler from Muskegon, Mich., had taken a unanimous decision over Frankie Ryff of New York.

"I've got $75,000 for a guarantee to Brown if he'll fight Lane for the title in Miami Stadium in February. I'm going to get his managers on the phone and I'm sure they'll be interested."

Lane, the No. 5 lightweight contender in the Ring magazine ratings, stung Ryff with solid south-paw blows to the head and body and was in command all the way. Ryff tried to take the offensive but there was no question after the seventh, when he was staggered by a left to the head, that he was a beaten fighter.

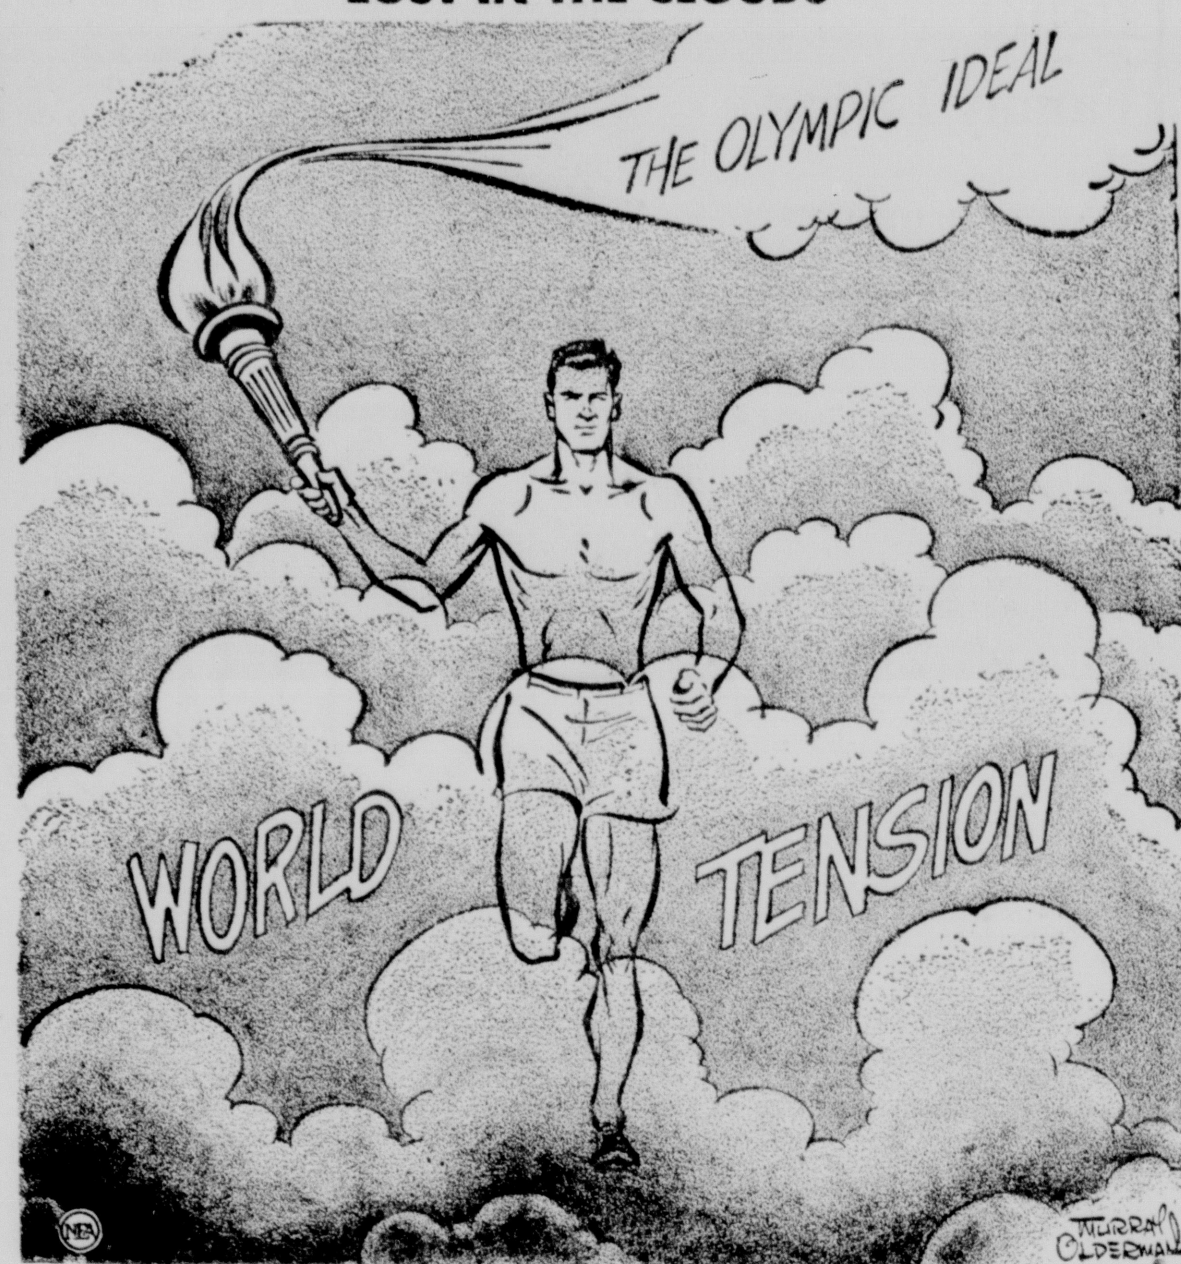

Lane weighed 138½, Ryff 140.

Cole Camp Tops LaMonte Cagers In Second Round

Cole Camp defeated LaMonte 77-49 Wednesday night in the second round of the Warsaw basketball tournament being played at Warsaw, while Cross Timbers topped Hughesville by a close 57-54 in the consolation bracket.

In the first round, Cole Camp had beaten Houstonia 87-44 and Warsaw defeated Cross Timbers 70-61 on Monday night, and Osceola stopped Hughesville 59-38 and Sacred Heart beat Lincoln 73-63 on Tuesday night.

Warsaw continued into second-round play Tuesday night to eliminate Green Ridge 71-50.

The semi-final games now scheduled are: Warsaw against Sacred Heart tonight at 9:30 and Cole Camp against Osceola Friday night.

High scorers in the game between Cole Camp and LaMonte Wednesday night were Ragland, with 25 points for Cole Camp, and Finke, with 17 points for LaMonte.

John Landq's Poor Showing Stirs Groans

MELBOURNE (AP)—John Landq's miserable showing at Geelong developed into a major subplot for rainy weather discussion among Olympic athletes of other nations today at the rapidly filling Olympic Village.

The world's premier miler, holder of the 3:58 world record, ran a stiff-kneed second from last in a big field of the 2-mile race last night at a hometown track meet to evoke sad remarks from fellow Australians.

They had put great hopes on his slim shoulders for gold medals in the games opening a week from today.

But Landy still insisted he'd run in the 5,000 as well as the 1,500 meters in the games.

"I intend to ease down slightly in my training for the next few days, but at present I intend to go on with my races at the Olympics," Landy said.

Landy was only one of several track stars who created an armada of groans which always echo these pregame days.

A batch of Americans moaned white-facedly in mess hall, where they successfully managed to get down an excellent luncheon of steaks, that they were suffering stomach aches which they personally characterized as "food poisoning."

One of the most notable was Thane Baker, 100 and 200-meter man who many are tipping as a possible upset winner in the sprints. Baker claimed he ran last night in great discomfort as did Rafer Johnson.

However, they didn't look like invalids yesterday or today and American officials said the team was in magnificent shape.

South African Leads First Round of Golf Open in Australia

MELBOURNE (AP)—Gary Player, a 21-year-old South African, shot a brilliant seven-under-par 66 to take the first round lead in the $22,500 Open golf tournament yesterday.

Player, using only 32 putts, wound up with a four-stroke lead over the international field which includes George Bayer of Grossinger, N. Y., and Bo Winingor of Oklahoma City. Most of the field had more difficulty with the greens at the Yarra Yarra course which drew angry appraisals from many of the entries.

Bayer, who finished with a 74 to Winingor's 73, said "these greens disgust me. The nap of them is terrific and I defy anyone to read them."

Australia's own Peter Thomson, the tourney favorite and the British Open champion, complained the whole course "needs a haircut."

Thomson carded a 71 along with countrymen Jack Harris, Erick Cremin and Bill Holder for a third place tie. Harold Henning of South Africa was the runnerup with a 70.

Clem Labine set a Brooklyn Dodger pitting record in 1956 by appearing in 62 games. He relieved 59 times and started three games.

Possibly Overemphasized—

Educators Find Collegiate Football Worthy Institution

WASHINGTON (AP)—Intercollegiate football sometimes condemned as an intrusion on American education, was viewed by four college presidents today as a worthy institution that's here to stay.

Burdened with problems, yes, and maybe overemphasized, they acknowledged. But in the words of one: "Definitely a part of the American college picture."

The presidents, interviewed between sessions of a convention of the American Assn. of Land-Grant Colleges and State Universities, included Frederick L. Hoyde, a former star quarterback at Minnesota. Hoyde now is president of Purdue.

Others were Ralph B. Draughon, Auburn; A. N. Jorgensen, Connecticut; and C. C. French, Washington State.

It was Jorgensen who said football is firmly established on the college scene. "So long as it occupies the proper place," he added, "fine."

To keep football in its proper place, French said, players must meet the same entrance requirements as other students, receive aid based on need and "make progress toward a degree in the recognized pattern."

Hoyde described sports as "an extremely vital part of our American environment." In any competitive system, he said, "troubles arise from those who abuse the freedoms involved."

Draughon said Auburn, currently on the NCAA probation list, is concerned that conference rules on aid to athletes be observed. College presidents, he said, can't personally control all aspects of football, such as what he called "excessive interest" on the part of alumni recruiters.

"It's overemphasized," Draughon said, "but not from inside the institution."

Mantle Thinks He Has Plenty of Time To Try for Record

COMMERCE, Okla. (AP)—Brushing aside all the ballyhoo about chasing Babe Ruth's record 60 home runs, New York Yankee slugger Mickey Mantle says, "I've still got plenty of time."

The 25-year-old switch-hitting center fielder has played five full seasons for the Yankees, and presumably has a long and illustrious career ahead.

But even he admits he will be hard pressed to top the 1956 season, in which he hit 52 home runs, batted .353 and accounted for 130 runs batted in. The batting triple crown yesterday earned him the American League's Most Valuable Player award.

Was Mantle surprised over the selection?

"I sorta figured I would win it," he said last night. "But, it's still a big thrill. It makes me real proud."

Most baseball observers have tabbed Mantle as having the best chance to smash Ruth's legendary 60 homers set in 1927. But Mickey says he's got time for that, adding, "I'll be very happy to hit 52 homers again next season."

William Noble Gets Kraft Play Award

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—William Noble was having a daiquiri for breakfast.

"I never drink at breakfast," he said, "but I need something to relax me. The tension is all in here." He tapped his stomach.

It was quite understandable. He was $50,000 richer than he'd been before the telephone rang the previous afternoon. The caller was a representative of Kraft Theatre (NBC-TV, Wednesday evenings), who informed him that a committee composed of critic Walter Kerr, playwright Maxwell Anderson and actress Helen Hayes had adjudged his drama, "Snapper Creek," the best of the year on that weekly dramatic program. Thus the $50,000.

"I was quite calm about it," Noble said. "Outwardly, that is. The tension was all in here." He tapped his stomach again. "I assured the Kraft people that I'd get a haircut and wear a tie and show up very presentably to accept the check."

Noble, 36, is a writer. The world being what it is, that means he has known poverty and discipline and loneliness. He has had faith in himself when the world could see no reason for faith, and he constantly wishes to be a better writer than he feels he is. A bachelor, he has lived in a Manhattan cold-water flat since 1950. "Snapper Creek" was his first hour-length TV drama.

In the past three years he has written three plays while supporting himself at odd jobs — typing manuscripts for others, working in a greeting card house. Now a producer has taken an option on one play, still untitled, which he wrote in collaboration with James Leo Herlihy. Fortune is smiling. What is he going to do?

"First of all I'm going to pay off the income tax people. I'm not very good at handling money and first of all I want to make sure they're paid. I don't care about clothing and cars and that sort of thing. But I would like a record player." What else does he want?

"The rest sounds pretty corny," he said. "You may not want to put it down. But I'd like to bring my mother to New York to live here a while. She's a widow. Her name is Mrs. Mary Hart and she lives in Spokane, Wash. She's never been to New York and I want to bring her here. And then I'd like to pay back Irene Selznick — you know, Irene Selznick, the producer — $1,000 she gave me in 1950. It was a grant, with no strings attached. She said I should come to New York to write. I want to pay it back so she can give it to some other writer. It would be a good idea to keep that $1,000 rotating."

And what else?

"You probably haven't room for it," he said. "But I wish you'd say something good about the only truly altruistic organization I know of. It's the New Dramatists Committee. They help people who want to write plays. They don't give you money, but they take an interest in you. The real thing they do for you is to make you feel not quite so lonely. They don't get enough credit."

Hal Boyle's Column--

Movie Star Calls Beauty Contests a 'Terrible Evil'

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Beauty contests, said Anita Ekberg, "are a terrible evil."

"I don't like them. I never have."

This sounded almost as heretical as if the late J. P. Morgan were to denounce gold. After all Miss Ekberg's own stepping-stone to Hollywood stardom had been the winning of a contest to pick a "Miss Sweden."

"Yes," she admitted, "but it was the only one I ever entered, and I did so only because my mother urged me to. I already was a top model."

What's so evil about beauty contests?

"Everything," said Miss Ekberg. "Many of them are such nonsense. They pick a 'Miss Fender of 1955' or a 'Miss Washing Machine of 1956.' But what does it mean?"

"Usually they always look for the wrong kind of girl in beauty contests. They want the—how do you say it—pretty next-door girl, the sweet, innocent, nothing-at-all girls."

"This kind of a girl is ruined by winning a beauty contest. She doesn't have the drive, ambition, talent or courage to make a career."

"But her head has been turned. She is afraid she will drop out of notice, so she is willing to do anything rather than go back home and live as she did before."

"She listens to men who tell her they can help her get ahead in show business. Often these men have no connection with show business at all. You know what they really want?"

"No, tell me," I said, cupping both hands to my ears to hear her next words better.

"They simply want a date with a pretty girl so they can show their friends what a bigshot they are," said Miss Ekberg. I dropped my hands.

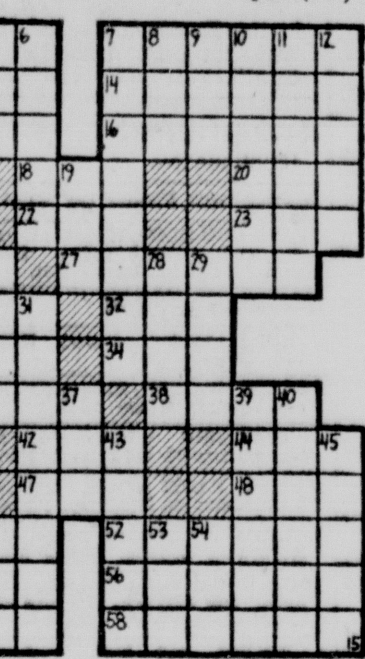

Anita said even beauty contest winners who land starlet contracts are little better off.

"A starlet gets walk-on parts to save the studio the cost of hiring another extra," she remarked. "But she is also expected to help entertain distinguished visitors."

James Stewart Says Changes Are Needed

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Does the movie business have a future? James Stewart thinks so, but he adds there'll be some changes made.

Stewart is worth listening to. After all, he's a No. 1 star at the box office. Despite his casual manner, he's a keen student of things cinematic. Probably no actor in the postwar period has earned more from movies than he. Jimmy was the pioneer of the 50 per cent deal. When his salary got too big for Universal-International, he was offered half of the returns for his services in a picture. Since most of his films attract multimillion-dollar grosses, this proved profitable indeed.

"The picture business has got to change," Jimmy reflected on the "Night Passage" set. "We've got to make movie going more attractive for the average public. That means we've got to have more comfortable seats, better air conditioning, more attractive theaters. We've got to make going out to the movie theater a real treat for the family."

The biggest bore, he opined, was going to the movie house and being unable to get in.

"There's nothing that sours a movie goer more," he said. "I think we've got to think about having a reserved seat policy, the same as legit houses. When people go to the theater, they want to know they're going to be able to find a seat."

As a matter of fact, much debate is going on in theater circles on the same matters Stewart brings up. The trade journal Variety has raised the issue that many theater owners are poor housekeepers and have allowed their theaters to get run down.

Progressive Club Has November Meeting

The Blackwater Progressive Extension Club met Nov. 9. Mrs. Ernest Rhodes and Mrs. Dean Knight gave reports on the meeting they had attended. A thank-you card was read from Mrs. Erna Pace, who is cook at R-1 school, thanking the club for the two French frying pans and baskets. The club decided to buy a potato cutter for the school. Mrs. Forrest Dohrman became a member. There were seven present. Mrs. Steinkuhler and Mrs. Rhodes received pal gifts. The next meeting will be Dec. 14 with Mrs. James Meyer for the Christmas meeting.

Longwood Neighbors Have Demonstrations

The Longwood Neighbor's 4-H Club met with Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Lettlich. Billy Claycomb gave an interesting demonstration on electricity III, concerning the effect of incorrect lighting and how to correct it.

Names were drawn for the Christmas party. Tula Ellen Hieronymus, Johnny Hieronymus, Larry Claycomb and Linda Claycomb became new members. There were 24 present. The Christmas party and demonstrations will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Ellis.

Highway Department May Need 45,000 Signatures for Land

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP)—The Oklahoma Highway Department may have to get signatures of 45,000 persons who own a portion of one acre of land needed as a highway right-of-way near Anadarko.

Sold in two-square inch lots at $1 per lot, the land was used to raise funds to construct an amphitheater.

Wes Wyatt, president of the Redman Land Co. which sold the tiny lots, quoted highway representatives as saying a quit claim deed signed by him and a "dedication deed" by the former owner might clear the property for the state purchase.

Police Chief Places Restriction on Elvis

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A no-wiggle restriction has been placed on Elvis Presley's appearance here Nov. 25.

Police chief Carl Heustis said he won't permit "any lewd, lascivious contortions" on the part of the entertainer.

"As you can surmise," the chief said, "I just don't happen to be one of his admirers."

Ambassadors Shakeup Has Been Planned

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration is reported planning a major shakeup of ambassadors in at least eight countries during the next few months.

The reshuffle will send a new lineup of American envoys to the four most important Western European countries—Britain, France, Italy and West Germany.

In the Asiatic area, new ambassadors are to be appointed to India, the Philippines, Australia and New Zealand. Three of these posts are now vacant.

Nearly all the diplomatic changes have been planned for a long time, especially those involving the Western European posts. But they also come at a time when top State Department officials, including Secretary Dulles, are known to be dissatisfied with the caliber of some diplomatic reports immediately before the outbreak of Middle East hostilities.

Dulles is understood to have been particularly upset that Ambassadors Winthrop Aldrich in London and Douglas Dillon in Paris were unable to break through what is regarded as a deliberate blackout of news by the British and French foreign offices in the week before the invasion of Egypt.

Both men were reported definitely resigning their present posts in keeping with previous plans. So is Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce, who has returned from Italy on one of her frequent visits to New York, after recovering from a serious illness. Mrs. Luce agreed to stay on until after last week's elections at White House urging.

Ambassador James Conant, former president of Harvard University, also is reported anxious to leave his post in West Germany.

To replace this foursome, the White House is reported urgently seeking top-flight businessmen who can also be counted upon to serve as effective diplomats during the critical weeks ahead.

Career diplomats will not be appointed to the jobs, regardless of their importance, officials said, because salaries and allowances do not cover the expense of running the embassies in the four capitals.

Ellsworth Bunker, retiring Red Cross president, is reported under serious consideration for the key job of ambassador to India, a spot that has been vacant six months. Former Ambassador John Sherman Cooper quit to make his successful race for Republican senator from Kentucky.

Death removed the ambassadors assigned to Australia and the Philippines.

Former Sen. Robert C. Hendrickson of New Jersey, now envoy to New Zealand, is understood to be planning to quit to accept either another diplomatic post or some position in private business.

Japanese Diver Has Severe Case of Bends

SASEBO, Japan (AP)—Yoshio Oyama, a Japanese diver who had been living in and out of the sea for eight days with a severe case of the bends, was released today from an American ship's decompression chamber.

Doctors said he was improved but it was too early to determine final results.

Oyama, 37, was treated aboard the Coucal, a U. S. Navy auxiliary ship. He was transferred to the city hospital for observation, and if he has a relapse will be returned to the Coucal.

A Japanese doctor said the diver had regained partial use of his arms and legs but still complained of leg pains.

Patrolman Declines Reward for Hound

NEW YORK (AP)—Sculptress Jeanne Owens has her basket hound back, but the man who found the pooch isn't interested in collecting his reward.

The hound, named Tuesday, disappeared Monday. Miss Owens said she would sculpture a head of whoever found him.

Patrolman George Bryant found Tuesday lolling on a street corner. He returned the droopy-eared dog to its owner but politely declined the acquisition of another head.

Man Dies Seconds Before Son Scores

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Death tapped R. W. Vollmer as he sat in the stands rooting for his 14-year-old son, a junior high half-back, to make a touchdown. Vollmer, 49, an avid football fan, was stricken seconds before halfback Russell Vollmer plunged over for the score.

Situation Reversed

EAU CLAIRE, Mich. (AP)—This southwestern Michigan town of about 500 persons which for five months had a policeman but no laws to enforce, now has laws—but no policeman.

For two years the city elders worked on a new set of ordinances to replace the old set which unexplainably "disappeared."

At the same time they approved the ordinances, the village councilmen fired the town's only full-time policeman, James Alford. They said they couldn't afford his $3,600-a-year salary.

Alford had no comment.

Two Senators Agree the GOP Must Modernize Principles

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Republican senators said today they agree thoroughly with President Eisenhower that their party must put over a program based on principles of modern Republicanism.

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) told a reporter he fears that if the GOP "fails to do this, it is likely to be out of office for a long time."

Sen. Clifford Case (R-NJ) in a separate interview cited a long list of legislation on which he said Republicans must get moving early in the 1957 session. Included were education, civil rights, immigration, housing, labor and small business items.

"The Republican party, in my opinion, will be successful in future elections only as it proves its desire and ability to carry out such programs," said Case.

Both Case and Aiken have backed up much of Eisenhower's program. Other less ardent supporters of the President were not available for comment.

Eisenhower discussed modern Republicanism at his first post-election news conference yesterday. He said he considered that he now has something of a mandate to work "industriously and incessantly" for his principles and program.

Modern Republicanism, he said, "is a type of political philosophy that recognizes clearly the responsibility of the federal government to take the lead in making certain that the productivity of our great economic machine is distributed so that no one will suffer disaster, privation through no fault of his own." He linked his program to that idea, along with preservation of the free enterprise system.

Eisenhower appeared to back down somewhat, however, from his assertion just after his Nov. 6 triumph that he believed the result represented a victory for modern Republicanism.

Yesterday, when asked his views on his own huge vote coupled with re-election of a Democratic-controlled Congress, he offered this appraisal:

Lack of Premium Salaries Helps, Not Hinders, Hiring

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The National Industrial Conference Board was told today that industry is short of skilled manpower but one of the best attractions for a prospective employee is the fact premium salaries won't be paid.

L. M. Hanford, director of wage and salary administration for the Carrier Corp., said this tells the prospective employee the company stands for honest treatment for its employees and he can expect to be treated in the same manner.

His remarks came in a speech prepared for a session on "compensating supervisors, technicians etc."

Another way to make a company attractive he said would be "to provide a distinct line of progression up the ladder for the people you want. And help them prepare themselves for higher jobs."

Hanford said management has a responsibility to work with educational leaders to find ways and means of making it possible for those who are interested to prepare.

"In the face of the shortage of technicians and engineers," he said, "which has become more severe year after year, our high schools have been dropping mathematics from their curriculums at an accelerating rate because of a lack of interest on the part of students."

"We should have the foresight to see that our younger people know of the attractiveness and opportunity these positions offer in the future," Hanford declared that "still further we have cut off the hand that feeds us by offering tempting salaries to the teachers and professors who teach these skills."

He said companies should keep the entire salary structure up to date so that it covers all jobs at going market rates and still reflects proper relationship between rates of all jobs in the organization.

This, he added, rules out the payment of premium salaries starting bonuses and expense reimbursements.

The conference board is a research institution which summarizes facts about industrial and business conditions, trends and techniques.

Yesterday, when asked his views on his own huge vote coupled with re-election of a Democratic-controlled Congress, he offered this appraisal:

"From my viewpoint, the United States has not yet been convinced that modern Republicanism is with us and is going to be the guiding philosophy of the Republican party."

PREDICTS EXACT VOTE—Jack Swimmer, who bills himself as a mentalist, holds up a sheet of paper Tuesday in Los Angeles listing his predictions made on Oct. 10 of President Eisenhower's popular vote totals in the nation, in California and in Los Angeles County as carried in Nov. 9 newspapers. He had posted a $5,000 check with the county board of supervisors to make good his boast. The predicted totals, when removed from a sealed box Tuesday, corresponded exactly with figures compiled by the Associated Press and carried in morning papers of Nov. 9.

War Threat Ups Pressure On Economy

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (P)—The threat of war is putting new pressure today on an economy that already is all but bursting its seams.

This is shown in such things as:

1. The prediction that an increasing demand for heavy steel plates will prolong the present shortage for several years, especially if the Middle East strife quickens plans for building super oil tankers so that the United States can supply its allies should the crisis grow.

2. The far faster spring in the total output of goods and services this year than anyone had foreseen and the indication that the growth will be limited only by the supply of materials and manpower.

3. Increasing tightness in the money market as business looks for funds to push its expansion program and governments look for credit to push their civic construction — with the giant federal highway program yet to come.

All of this adds up to more inflationary pressure.

The Suez crisis already has sent the prices of some commodities higher. It has added a 20 per cent surcharge on the shipping costs when goods must bypass the canal. It has tightened further an already tight supply of ships and tankers, threatening to hike all shipping rates.

Turmoil in Hungary and Poland already has stilled any talk of cutting back in U.S. defense spending. Now the conjecture is all the other way — that increased defense spending may put new demands on industrial production.

In its present confident mood business gives every sign of going right along spending, limited only by its ability to get the money or the credit. Part of the spending is to increase industrial capacity, but much of it is to get more efficient plants where production costs can be cut.

Soviet Cost For Hungary Will Be High

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY
AP Foreign News Analyst
NEW YORK (P)—The Soviet Union will be paying through the nose for a long time for suppressing the Hungarian revolution.

Kremlin leaders probably do not yet realize the extent to which their conduct has undermined Soviet international authority and prestige—and perhaps even the basis of their power at home.

Here are some of the consequences now being reckoned up against the Soviet Communist Party for armed intervention in Hungary:

1. In Western Europe and elsewhere outside the Communist bloc the entire Communist movement has been dealt a very heavy blow. Many Reds are quitting their parties in protest against the massacre of Hungarian workers. Many nonparty members who supported the Reds at the polls can be expected to shift their allegiance.

2. Soviet relations with Yugoslav President Tito will inevitably be worsened. The Soviet Communist chiefs will tend to blame the Hungarian rebellion on "Titoism" — while the Yugoslav Communist will blame them on Moscow's policies.

3. The determination of the National Communists who now control the Polish Communist Party to throw off completely the remnants of Moscow's domination will be greatly increased.

4. Soviet difficulties in maintaining domination over East Germany, Czechoslovakia, Rumania, Bulgaria and Albania will be greatly complicated. Discontent with Soviet domination, with the presence of Soviet troops and Soviet economic policies can be expected to continue to increase in all the satellites.

5. Inside the Soviet Union, it is reasonable to assume, the authority of the Soviet government over the Soviet people will be damaged. Factional quarrels inside the Communist Party leadership probably will become more acute.

Sen. Carroll Is Irish And Tough

DENVER (P)—Colorado's senator-elect, Democrat John A. Carroll, should be ready for any battles that develop in the coming session: he's Irish and he can bounce off the ropes.

He proved that by getting elected to the Senate after he was beaten twice before. What's more, he knows Washington. He served two terms as a representative and became a close friend and adviser of President Truman. In his four years in Congress he was known as a liberal.

Carroll's election a week ago yesterday in a state favored to go Republican helps to give the Democrats their slim majority in the new Senate. He defeated Republican Dan Thornton, golfing friend of President Eisenhower, by nearly 8,000 votes.

The new senator said he intends to "strengthen and support President Eisenhower's program when I feel in good conscience it is in the best interests of the West and the nation."

"I am going to Washington not to obstruct but to watch very carefully what moves the administration makes," Carroll said in an interview.

He said he plans to work closely with Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) "in carrying out an investigation of big corporations of the country which I think are fixing prices and doing great damage to our free enterprise system."

Carroll termed his win over Thornton "a sweet victory" after losing in 1950 to Republican Eugene D. Millikin, whose seat he now moves into, and Republican Gordon Allott in 1954.

Carroll, 55, and his wife Dorothy have a daughter, Diane, attractive blonde graduate of University of Colorado, who has been a clerk in the Denver District Court this year.

The election act mistakenly read the "second Tuesday in November" instead of the "first Tuesday after the first Monday."

Nearly two million voted in the general election last week. Estimated cost of the special election was $200,000.

The amendment qualified nearly 15,000 permanently disabled citizens for state aid.

Graham has been speaker four times in the past 20 years and several times was Democratic floor leader in the House.

Graham got into the race in the first place because he and some other Democrats were opposed to some of the practices Hamlin established as speaker during the 1955 session.

But yesterday he issued a statement that he was withdrawing in the interest of party harmony.

The Democrats, expected to match in the coming session the 97-60 vote edge they held in the 1955 House session, will meet here Nov. 26 to choose their officers.

Reps. Richard H. Ichord (D) of Texas County and William M. Turpin (D) of Pike County are reportedly seeking the job of speaker pro tem. Warren E. Hearnes (D)

Blackwater Garden Club Met Thursday

By Mrs. M. R. Gillespie

BLACKWATER — Mrs. Robert O'Neal entertained the Community Garden Club at her home on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. George Lamm and Mrs. Paul Taylor, of Boonville, were guests. Mrs. Taylor demonstrated Christmas arrangements. Following the business meeting the guests were served refreshments. The December meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Frank Esser.

Mrs. Jesse Root and daughter, Miss Lila, are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. John Linder at Denver, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Hooper had as dinner guests Saturday evening, Nov. 3, Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Hooper, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hooper and daughter, Barbara, and Linda Williams, of Sedalia.

Evangelist Jim McGow, Kansas City, preached for the Church of Christ Sunday. He was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Widel. He was accompanied by Harold Bray and two sons, Kansas City who were guests in the Widel home also.

Philip Wayne Widel, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Widel, went to Columbia, Nov. 3, with assistant county agent, Bob Harper, and entered a judging contest sponsored by the Block and Bridle Club of Columbia. He judged cows, sheep, and hogs. Boys from seven counties entered the contest. Philip placed second.

Syvan Woolery, Sedalia, was guest speaker at the Methodist Church Sunday. His subject was "Peace." He was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Wagner. Other guests were Mrs. Hulda Duvall, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Sprigg and two daughters.

The PTA study group met at the school auditorium for its regular meeting. Mrs. Elbert Sprigg had charge of the program. Her subject was "Report Cards."

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hooper and daughter have moved from the Oliver Burns property in Blackwater to a residence at Montague Hill near Marshall. Hooper is employed in Marshall.

Guests Over Weekend In Houstonia Homes

By Miss Mary E. Tevebaugh

HOUSTONIA — Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Leland Tuck spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Eakin Hurt, Zerach, Kan. They also visited Mrs. Frank Sewell, Kansas City.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Williams, and family, Rossville, Kan., spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. George Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. John Smith visited Mrs. C. E. Rector and the John Franklin family at Hodge, Sunday.

Mrs. John Tignor and three children, Kansas City, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hand.

Miss Judy Blackburn, Kansas City, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Blackburn.

The teachers of the Houstonia school attended the Teachers Meeting in Kansas City Thursday and Friday.

Elaine Lowrey spent the weekend in Kansas City.

Mr. and Mrs. Judge Higgins and family, Maryville, visited Mr. and Mrs. Jim Higgins and Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Wicker recently.

Mrs. A. A. Alexander and Miss Mary Alexander, Kansas City, visited Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Parkhurst-Sunday.

Mrs. John Harris Sr. visited her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Packard, St. Louis, this past week.

William E. Kemp Heads Starlight

William E. Kemp, former Pettis Countian, mayor of Kansas City before H. Roe Bartle was elected to that post, was Tuesday elected president of the Starlight Theatre Association in Kansas City at a meeting of its membership and guarantors.

He succeeds Frank H. Spink. Other officers named are Paul E. Connor, re-elected treasurer and Kenneth G. Gillespie secretary.

In a report on general operations Mr. Connor disclosed an operating loss of $61,437 for the season of 1956.

Mr. Spink in a report read attributed the deficit to increased salaries to chorus and others, comparable increases for production royalties and materials needed in staging for the various attractions presented.

Sorority Chapters Will Hold Bake Sale

Three chapters of the City Council of Beta Sigma Phi will have a bake sale Saturday, which is for the project last year and this year for buying equipment for the new wing of Bothwell Hospital. The chapters are Epsilon Beta, Beta Tau Xi Omega.

Mrs. Bill Padgett and Mrs. E. S. Howard are chairmen of the bake sale for which all sorority members will bake, and will work in the stores where the baked goods will be sold.

Mrs. Carl Schrader is president of the City Council and Miss Grace Farley is chairman of the ways and means committee.

New Version of Old Favorite

BEAUTIFUL TO BEHOLD—Pumpkin Chiffon Icebox Cake.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

PUMPKIN CHIFFON ICEBOX CAKE

Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower's recipe for pumpkin chiffon pie is the inspiration for this year's Pumpkin Chiffon Icebox Cake.

Here's how we came by this new version of a favorite dessert. One of our sisters was a guest at a buffet supper where a mold of ladyfingers and pumpkin chiffon filling was served—and enthusiastically applauded—by a dozen guests. When our sister asked how the mold was concocted, the hostess told her that it was based on the recipe for Mrs. Eisenhower's Pumpkin Chiffon Pie found in a Thanksgiving column of our own!

In this new recipe the amounts of gelatin, sugar, spices, eggs and pumpkin in the original rule have been increased to give the volume needed for an 8-inch spring-form pan. One other change was made: undiluted evaporated milk and cream of tartar were used to help give body to the dessert so it stands up beautifully when cut.

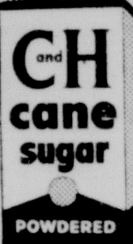

If at Thanksgiving time you like to serve a delicate dessert as well as traditional pies, do try this recipe. We find that although it's as light as air, men enjoy it just as much as do women.

Ingredients: 12 ladyfingers, 2 cups firmly packed light brown sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon nutmeg, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1 cup undiluted evaporated milk, 5 eggs (separated), ½ teaspoon cream of tartar, 3 cups canned pumpkin, ½ cup granulated sugar, whipped cream.

Method: Split ladyfingers; cut off one end and place, rounded side up, around sides of an 8-inch spring-form pan. Mix together gelatin, brown sugar, salt and spices in top of double boiler. Stir in evaporated milk and egg yolks; mix well. Place over boiling water and cook, stirring constantly, until gelatin dissolves and mixture is heated through, about 10 minutes. Remove from heat; add pumpkin and chill until mixture mounds when dropped from a spoon. Beat egg whites until foamy; add cream of tartar and beat until stiff, but not dry. Gradually add granulated sugar and beat until very stiff. Fold gelatin mixture into egg whites. Turn into prepared pan; chill until firm. To unmold, release spring and remove side of mold carefully. Garnish with whipped cream (sweetened with confectioners' sugar and flavored with vanilla). Makes 12 to 14 servings.

Tasty Stuffing for Thanksgiving

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Feel adventurous this Thanksgiving? Then here's a new turkey stuffing recipe you may wish to try. It includes sesame seeds—an ingredient that has become popular of late.

Frosted grapes make a garnish that tastes delicious with this turkey and stuffing. At serving time, surround the roasted turkey with the grape clusters and present it to the carver; remove the grapes to a small serving dish before the carving is done. Then as each person is served, a cluster may be added to the plate along with slices of the bird and spoonfuls of its stuffing.

Roast Turkey With Sesame Stuffing

Ingredients: 8 pound ready-to-cook turkey, 1 teaspoon minced garlic, 1-3 cup butter or margarine, 2½ quarts soft ½-inch bread cubes, 1-3 cup minced parsley, 2 tablespoons sesame seeds, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ¼ cup white grape juice.

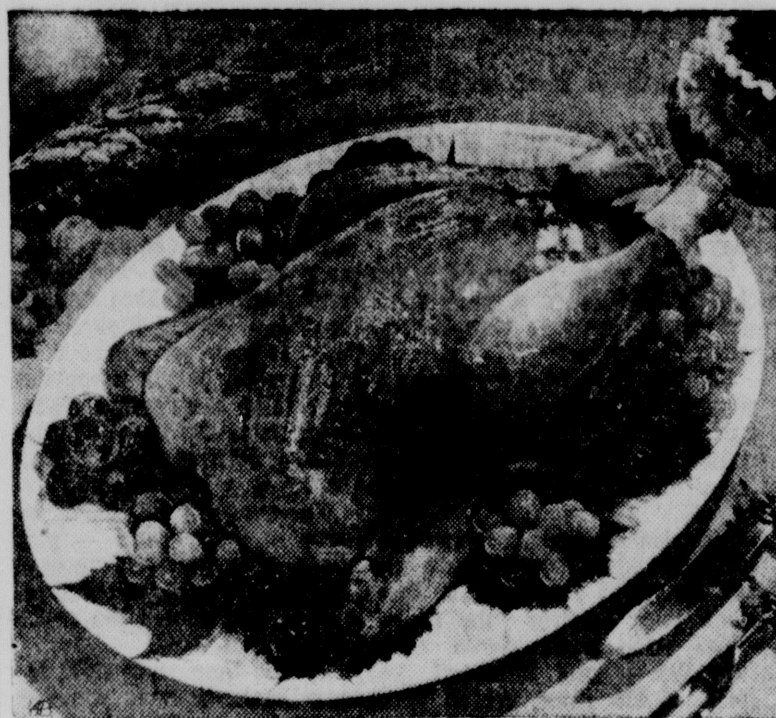

Method: Rinse turkey in cold water and pat dry. Refrigerate turkey while stuffing is prepared. Add garlic to butter and melt butter. Mix soft bread cubes, parsley, sesame seeds, salt and pepper. Add garlic butter and grape juice to bread mixture; mix well. Rub neck and body cavities with salt. Spoon stuffing into neck cavity, using enough to fill the skin so that turkey will look plump when served. Fold neck skin over and skewer it to back. Twist wing tips and fasten them "akimbo" style, bringing tips onto back. Complete stuffing body.

Close body cavity by skewering skin together and lacing it closed with heavy cord. Tie drumsticks to tail. Brush skin thoroughly with melted butter or shortening. Place turkey breast up, on a rack in a shallow open pan. Insert a meat thermometer through the membrane between the first and second ribs, so that bulb end reaches into center of stuffing. Roast uncovered in a slow (325 degrees) oven for 3 hours or longer—until stuffing temperature reaches 165 degrees and turkey meat is cooked through. Do not sear and do not add water during roasting period. Note: To test turkey for doneness, press fleshy part of drumstick between fingers; if the meat is very soft, it is done. Move the drumstick up and down; if the bone moves easily or twists out of joint, the bird is done.

NEW FROSTED GRAPES

Ingredients: Purple and green grapes, ½ cup water, ¼ cup white corn syrup, granulated sugar.

Method: Wash bunches of grapes in cold running water; cut in small well-shaped clusters; no more stuffing than a medium sized bird because the difference in weight is due to the amount of meat on the carcass and not to the size of the bird's cavity.

ROAST TURKEY — looks pretty surrounded by clusters of frosted grapes, but remove first before carving.

Be sure to use a light hand when you are adding a fluffy bread stuffing for your turkey because the dressing will expand during the roasting period. If you pack stuffing in tightly, it will lose its fluffy texture and the bird may burst!

Test kitchens usually recommend that a cup of stuffing be allowed for every pound (ready-to-cook weight) of turkey. A very large turkey will probably need

Glamor Girl Style on Way Out; Young Men Turn to Natural Look

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of the Gilbert Youth Research Co.

Teen-age glamor girls, slathered with makeup, may inspire wolf whistles, but it's the lass with a natural look who gets the dates.

There's something about excess makeup and lowcut dresses that freezes a young man in his tracks. "If there's anything I despise it's a girl with all that gook on her face," observes a high school football star. "And slinky dresses, ugh!"

A Providence, R. I., youth comments: "My steady used to try to dress sexy to make herself look older. But I told her it was the fancy-pancy dolls or me, and she sure caught on in a hurry."

And what do girls think about how men dress?

"None of this Marlon Brando jazz for me," says 16-year-old Lucy. "My date should at least wear a tie and sports jacket. He doesn't have to wear evening clothes. All I ask is neatness."

In one of our cross-country surveys, several girls registered complaint against the Presley influence. They admit they like it on Elvis, but...

"The fellows in my crowd are growing sideburns," one sighed. "Next they'll have beards. It's just too much."

As for the teen girl, being a femme fatale won't keep the wolf (young and two-legged) away from her door, but it probably will the boy she'd really like to go out with.

Almost unanimously, young men favor the All-American Girl look. They say heavy cake makeup, mascara and rouge are all right for movie stars, but not for the girls they want to be seen with.

A light touch of lipstick and perhaps a dab of powder are enough to set off a girl's natural beauty, they think. One Bronx, N.Y., high school boy remarks:

"There's a cute girl I've wanted to take out a couple of times, but I'm afraid to ask her. The last time I met her at a party she looked like her face was made up to haunt a house."

This young man may not know it, but girls today look better and dress more neatly than girls of a decade or two ago.

After correlating our most recent information on high school students of yesterday and today, we learned:

Our teen-ager dresses more neatly than even her older sister 10 years ago. She wears sweaters and skirts that show her figure and thus she has to watch her weight. Her boyish coiffure is growing to a flattering shoulder length and for school she has adopted a tidy pony tail.

She wears costume jewelry less obviously and shows a taste for simplicity. In cosmetics, which become a part of her daily schedule at about 14, she prefers discreet makeup. Consequently, she looks more natural and a new maturity shines through.

This maturity reflects the changes in thought and belief which have come about in the last 15 years. Today's young woman is increasingly aware of events around her because she emerged into an adult world tottering on the brink of war. She dates two years younger than the girls of 10 or 20 years ago, and she will marry about two years younger.

Because security is important to her—and to the family she hopes to have—she wants to go to college. And career opportunities for women that would have been unthinkable 10 years ago are opening up for her.

Hand in hand with this growing consciousness of responsibility—and this applies equally to teenagers—men—is interest in health and diet.

This emphasis has developed mainly in the last decade. For example, 17.6 per cent of the teenagers we surveyed take vitamin capsules.

Why? "Don't be a goof, man," admonishes a Texas lad. "The healthier you are, the longer you live. And I want to be around for a long, long time."

Young moderns' diet-consciousness is especially apparent in girls 13-17. Thirty-six per cent of them say they watch what they eat.

Weight-watching starts young, and 18 per cent of teen-agers consider themselves too hefty to be hep. Only five per cent however follow a strict diet regime for losing weight.

Many teens, especially 13-17-year-old boys, want to gain some manly muscles.

And a New Jersey deb exclaims:

"If there is anything so ugly as the skin-and-bones type I'd like to see it. I'm doing my best to fill out those curves. No one likes a skeleton."

Of course, dieting is done for other purposes than taking off weight. Eleven per cent of girls and 14 per cent of boys have what they call "serious complexion trouble." But many more than that nearly one-third in fact worry about pimples. Only three per cent are on complexion diets under doctors' directions, but many skin warriors are trying on their own hook to control their

Encourage Child's Belief In Santa Claus Tradition

By Dorothy V. Whipple, M. D.
AP Newsfeatures

"There really isn't any Santa Claus, is there, Mommy?" asked 7-year-old Arlene. Mother was surprised at the question because before supper Arlene had laboriously printed out a letter to Santa Claus and it was now lying on the hearth in front of the fireplace.

"No, dearie," said Mother, pushing back the dark curls from the earnest little face. "Santa Claus is just a game we love to play."

"That's what I thought," said the child. "He is a nice game, and we're going to play him all ways, aren't we?"

Children just grow up to understand that Santa Claus is not a real man and the disillusionment comes slowly and painlessly when the child is mature enough to accept it.

Occasionally parents worry over telling children "what isn't so," lest the child lose faith in them when they discover "the truth."

The myth about Santa Claus isn't like a real falsehood. The spirit of the game behind Santa Claus is something that lasts throughout life—the kindly giving spirit that makes people enjoy making others happy. In early childhood this spirit is personified in the jolly fat old man with a big white beard and a red suit.

Later the personification slips away and just the spirit remains. Some children become interested in Santa Claus at about 2 although many 2-year-olds are a bit frightened by Santa Claus. But between 3 and 5 most children believe in him implicitly and are interested in every detail. These are the real Santa Claus years.

"No one can beat my mother's cooking," boasts a New England junior.

Says a West Virginia girl: "I like eating at home best. You don't have to worry about what to order, and besides, it's relaxing to sit with your family at a meal."

Teens often aren't at ease in a restaurant—or even at a friend's home.

"I never know if it's all right to take a second helping or if I'm using the wrong fork," complains a Long Beach, N.Y., youth. "So I figure I'm better off inviting my friends to my house for dinner."

And what do they eat?

An impressive number of young people had the same answer to our final query, "What is your favorite food?"

As if with one voice 81 per cent said: "Steaks or hamburgers, what else?"

The joy and excitement of Christmas are some of the most precious landmarks of childhood.

During these faith-in-Santa-Claus-years you need have little fear that the child will find out that the story is a myth. He loves the story and wants to believe. If he is told that Santa Claus is only a fairy tale he very likely will pay no attention. He won't "hear" what he doesn't want to know.

To him Santa Claus is a very real person, who lives in a real house and likes oatmeal for breakfast. Riding through the sky with a team of reindeer is just as sensible as the aeroplanes he sees. The notion that these fantastic trips are for the purpose of making children all over the world happy is a lovely idea.

Encourage your child to believe in Santa Claus—play the game with him and through his joy and giggles of pleasure all of you will absorb the real spirit of Christmas.

By the time your child is 6 he may begin to have some doubts about the reality of the Santa Claus myth but he will want to play the game just the same, but he may be 7, 8, or 9 before Santa Claus slips into outgrown beliefs of early childhood.

The joy and excitement of Christmas are some of the most precious landmarks of childhood.

During these faith-in-Santa-Claus-years you need have little fear that the child will find out that the story is a myth. He loves the story and wants to believe. If he is told that Santa Claus is only a fairy tale he very likely will pay no attention. He won't "hear" what he doesn't want to know.

To him Santa Claus is a very real person, who lives in a real house and likes oatmeal for breakfast. Riding through the sky with a team of reindeer is just as sensible as the aeroplanes he sees. The notion that these fantastic trips are for the purpose of making children all over the world happy is a lovely idea.

Encourage your child to believe in Santa Claus—play the game with him and through his joy and giggles of pleasure all of you will absorb the real spirit of Christmas.

Occasionally parents worry over telling children "what isn't so," lest the child lose faith in them when they discover "the truth."

The myth about Santa Claus isn't like a real falsehood. The spirit of the game behind Santa Claus is something that lasts throughout life—the kindly giving spirit that makes people enjoy making others happy. In early childhood this spirit is personified in the jolly fat old man with a big white beard and a red suit.

Later the personification slips away and just the spirit remains. Some children become interested in Santa Claus at about 2 although many 2-year-olds are a bit frightened by Santa Claus. But between 3 and 5 most children believe in him implicitly and are interested in every detail. These are the real Santa Claus years.

"No one can beat my mother's cooking," boasts a New England junior.

Says a West Virginia girl: "I like eating at home best. You don't have to worry about what to order, and besides, it's relaxing to sit with your family at a meal."

Teens often aren't at ease in a restaurant—or even at a friend's home.

"I never know if it's all right to take a second helping or if I'm using the wrong fork," complains a Long Beach, N.Y., youth. "So I figure I'm better off inviting my friends to my house for dinner."

And what do they eat?

An impressive number of young people had the same answer to our final query, "What is your favorite food?"

As if with one voice 81 per cent said: "Steaks or hamburgers, what else?"

Victim of Apparent Murder Identified By Sons From Iowa

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—The victim of an apparent murder was identified here yesterday by her two sons as Mrs. Olla P. White, 60, of Manchester, Iowa.

Don Mullan of Manchester and Bill Mullan of Earlville, Iowa, made the identification.

Mrs. White's body was discovered in a ditch near Wichita Sunday morning. She had been shot in the head with a .32 weapon.

The FBI entered the case after Mrs. White's car was found abandoned in Missouri just north of Kansas City last Friday.

The sons said the last word from their mother came in a post card mailed Nov. 3 from Des Moines.

It indicated Mrs. White, a practical nurse, planned to take a job on a farm or begin a leisurely trip west.

Authorities speculated Mrs. White may not have been in Missouri but was driving across Kan-

New Here! New There! New Everywhere!

Newest Buick Yet

WE'VE introduced a lot of new Buicks to the local scene—but never before one as new as this.

Inside and outside, top to toe, end to end—this is the newest Buick yet.

And it's not just new for newness itself—but new in ways that make driving more comfortable, safer and more fun.

You'll see what we mean when you study these gorgeous new Buicks close up.

They're inches lower and stunningly styled from stem to stern—yet each is wondrously roomy inside.

They bring a wide-eyed new visibility of the road ahead with a rakish windshield that adds hundreds more square inches of glass area.

They're new in ride, with a new contour frame chassis that "nests" your going—giving new roadability with a lower center of gravity—yet road clearance is unchanged.

They're new in handling with a new Buick-developed ball-joint suspension that makes steering and cornering easier while it levelizes braking.

But above and beyond all else—these 1957 Buicks are brand new in performance:

—with a V8 engine that's completely new from the crankshaft up, to give you the highest horsepower and compression ratios in all Buick annals.

—with an advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo* that brings you such instant response, such smoothness, such a full range of fluid motion in "Drive" that the need for "Low" is all but eliminated.

All this covers only the big advances in the 1957 Buick.

There are other wonderful new things to see—the new safety instrument panel—the new dip-center steering wheel—the lavish new color-mate interiors—the new counterbalanced brake pedals—well over a hundred and fifty new features in all.

As your Buick dealer, we're ready and eager to tell you the full story of these newest Buicks yet—and how easy you'll find it to call one your own. Stop in and see us this week.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.
